Illinois, Pennsylvania Campaign Scenes

Nixon Glowingly Endorsed By Ike; Kennedy Hits Hard At Joblessness

Claims Send-Off By Ike Sparks Campaign

By JACK BELL

WITH NIXON IN ILLINOIS (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon rolled his presidential campaign into Chicago's suburbs today with a glowing endorsement from President Eisenhower.

The Republican presidential nominee made it clear he believes the send-off the President gave him in a nationally televised appearance in Philadelphia Friday night put his campaign in high gear at a particularly critical time.

Herbert G. Klein, the vice president's press secretary, said Nixon was "exhilarated" by Eisenhower's praise of the Republican nominee and his running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge.

But more important politically, Klein said, was what the press secretary described as Eisenhower's devasting criticisms of Nixon's democratic rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Nixon's supporters also were particularly pleased that the President had urged his listeners not to pay too much attention to party labels.

The vice president has been sounding this note in areas such as the shopping center circuit on which he was billed for appearances after a morning rally at the Quad City Airport near Rock Island, Ill.

Aides said Nixon hoped to stir up in the suburbs the kind of Republican and independent support he needs to offset an expected large Democratic majority in Chicago.

Nixon told a cheering partisan audience of about 4,000 persons who jammed the rafters of the Davenport, Iowa, Masonic Temple Friday night he is convinced the tide is running his way in the presidential contest. He described his whistle-stopping tour across Illinois as "one of the most exciting days of campaigning" he had seen.

He said that in the key states of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Iowa the "tide is running strong and Democrats by the thousands are joining with us to support our ticket."

This was happening, Nixon said, because Democrats "do not have confidence in their own ticket."

"They realize that it is essential in making the decision as to who should be president that it not be made simply on the basis of the labels we wear, but that it has to be made on what we stand for, on our experience, on our background," he said.

Nixon flailed away at Kennedy's statement that because of Republican administration policies the country is slipping into an economic recession. The vice president called this the "most ignorant comment made in this campaign to date."

Democrat Wages Vote Fight In Philadelphia

By JOHN CHADWICK

WITH KENNEDY IN PENNSYLVANIA (AP)—In a sharp change of scenery but not of pace, Sen. John F. Kennedy carried his presidential campaign in Pennsylvania today to Philadelphia's suburbs.

He started off in the wee morning hours with a speech to a $25-dollar-a-plate dinner under a tent on a muddy rain-drenched golf course.

Kennedy hit hard on unemployment, the problem of economically depressed areas, and the plight of the Iron Curtain countries.

Kennedy landed in a downpour at Philadelphia International Airport, then drove 20 miles to the Aronimink Country Club to keep a date for which he was nearly five hours late.

It was nearly 2 a.m. then,, and Kennedy noted he had started out at eight o'clock Friday morning —18 hours earlier.

President Eisenhower came to Philadelphia several hours ahead of Kennedy, and in his first major political speech of the campaign, plugged for the election of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

He called Nixon the best qualified man to be the next president and took some sharp jibes at Kennedy without mentioning him by name.

Kennedy, however, could look back with elation on a day of campaigning in northeastern areas of Pennsylvania suffering chronic economic ills and heavy unemployment.

In a day and night motorcade through steel and coal mining communities he was all but overwhelmed by huge crowds that stormed around for a chance to shake his hand.

By the time he reached Scranton Friday night he had a bruised, swollen and slightly scratched right hand that attested, as he said, that coal miners "really know how to shake hands."

Kennedy lagged behind schedule on his motorcade as dense crowds slowed his caravan. Just to cover the 17 miles from Wilkes-Barre to Scranton took 2½ hours.

Gov. David L. Lawrence, traveling with Kennedy, said there never had been anything like it in the state's history—not even in the days of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Blasts Democrats

President Boosts Republican Hopes

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A free-swinging assault by President Eisenhower on what he called Democratic "irresponsibility" has raised Republican hopes today for homestretch vigor in the final 10 days of the presidential campaign.

Eisenhower flew here Friday night for a nationally televised speech in his drive to make his vice president, Richard M. Nixon, his successor. Nixon was reported "extremely exhilarated" by the President's praise.

Eisenhower sparked bursts of applause as he hammered hard at Sen. John F. Kennedy's charges that Republican leadership has damaged American prestige abroad and steered the country into economic doldrums.

The President drew cheers with this shaft at the Democratic nominee: "My friends, anyone who seeks to grasp the reins of world leadership should not spend all his time wringing his hands."

Declaring Nixon "by long odds" the best qualified man to be president, Eisenhower struck the familiar Republican theme that Kennedy is immature and brash.

Though he never mentioned Kennedy by name, Eisenhower said: "I hear that one candidate says he will act first and act fast. America needs a man who will think first, and then act wisely."

Pennsylvania Republican leaders, recently concerned at signs of rising Kennedy strength, were jubilant over Eisenhower's speech and the warmth of his reception from thousands on midtown Philadelphia streets.

In his speech to a dinner sponsored by the Nixon-for-President Committee of Pennsylvania, Eisenhower said the United States is the most powerful nation on earth in force of arms. He cited a page-long list of economic gains in the past eight years to document his claim that "never have Americans achieved so much in so short a time."

He said he was "profoundly concerned by some statements in this campaign that have cruelly distorted the image of America."

"These statements demonstrate an amazing irresponsibility," said Eisenhower. "they demand, from me, emphatic correction."

He recited foreign policy "successes" which, he said, refuted the charges that the nation has lost prestige. The list ranged from the halting of the "costly and futile" Korean War to "a decent solution of the Suez affair" and the forging of "new ties with our neighbors to the south."

Shenango Employes Will Get Pay Increase

Some 1,000 employes of the Shenango China, Inc., at New Castle will receive a wage increase of 4 cents an hour and another cent in additional insurance benefits beginning Tuesday.

T. W. Dickey Jr., industrial relations director for the firm, said that beginning Jan. 1, an additional 2 cents an hour will be set aside towards a pension program.

These increases were agreed to in a contract negotiated with the United Steelworkers of America Nov. 1, 1959. Shenango potters belong to Steelworkers Local 3125.

Cuba, Canada In Deal

HAVANA (AP) — Commerce Minister Raul Cepero Bonilla Friday night announced the sale of 5,000 tons of sugar to Canada under a new trade pact through which Cuba reportedly will obtain flour and other Canadian products, including replacement parts for machinery.

'Foggy Mind' Sunday? Turn Clocks Tonight

If you expect to wake up Sunday with a foggy mind, then turn your clocks back an hour before you retire tonight.

That's the final reminder that Daylight Saving Time ends Sunday morning at 2 when Eastern Standard Time is resumed. An hour of sleep was lost with the time change in April and that will be regained tonight.

Motorists may be "foggy minded" again tomorrow as the temperature forecast indicates the dense white blanket that shrouded the Ohio Valley this morning may be repeated Sunday.

The low range tonight will be 44 to 50 degrees, slightly milder. Sunday will be partly cloudy but mild.

2 Men At Wellsville Receive Prison Terms

Two Wellsville defendants convicted by juries in Common Pleas Court were denied new trials and sentenced to prison Friday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Carl Lee Hawk Jr., 20, of 1603 Main St., was sentenced to 1-20 years in the state penitentiary for driving a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

William H. Thomas, 45, of 1010 Anderson Ave., was sentenced to 1-15 years for assault with intent to rape.

Judge Buzzard granted a stay of sentence to Thomas after his attorney said he would take the case to the 7th District Court of Appeals. Thomas' bond of $2,000 was continued.

U.N. Guards British Writer After Threat

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Associated Press correspondent Michael Goldsmith was taken under United Nations protection today after a squad of armed Congolese soldiers attempted to break into his room.

The soldiers barged into the Memling Hotel where Goldsmith was staying, shouting that they were carrying out orders of Col. Joseph Mobutu, Congolese army chief.

Mobutu announced three days ago he would ask Goldsmith to leave the country. Goldsmith has been reporting acts of violence by Mobutu's soldiers and the charges of U. N. representatives that Belgian military instructors have been trying to undermine them. Similar reports have been filed by other correspondents.

The 18-man Congolese squad started pounding at Goldsmith's door at 6:45 a. m. Goldsmith refused to open the door and telephoned Indian Gen. I. Rikhye of the U. N. staff.

Within minutes, a multinational squad of U. N. soldiers and military police arrived and the Congolese withdrew.

Plane Crash Fatal To 12; Probe Opens

FRENCHTOWN, Mont. (AP) — Investigators sought an explanation today for the crash of a Northwest Airlines passenger plane which overturned in the air, plunging against a mountainside.

Eight passengers, three crew members and a hitchhiking stewardess died Friday in the burning wreckage scattered over a quarter-mile.

Flying low in cloudy weather, the airliner bound for Minneapolis from Portland, Ore., was due to make an instrument landing less than 20 minutes later in Missoula, in the mountains of western Montana.

"It started to roll over on its back," Sue Hough said after watching the crash. "It hit with a tremendous noise and blaze."

"As the plane headed toward the mountain," said another witness, Dave Anderson, "it winged over on its back and crashed upside down against the mountain."

Like a roaring tank, the four-engine plane skidded through the timber. Two engines hurtled 100 yards down the hillside. A door was flipped into a clump of trees a half-mile away.

Arrive At Naval Base

U.S. Marines Land In Cuba; New Cries Of 'Invasion' Loom

Contingent Of 1,450 On Maneuvers

Castro Expected To Hurl Fresh Charges In Weekend Speech

HAVANA (AP)—The arrival of a contingent of U.S. Marines at Guantanamo naval base today for the weekend was expected to launch Prime Minister Fidel Castro into a new round of charges that the United States is grooming an invasion force.

Cuban officials showed great interest in the announcement from Washington that 1,450 Marines on maneuvers in the Caribbean will land at the U.S. naval base at the east end of Cuba for a few days of rest and recreation.

Cuban officials did not comment. Castro was to make a nationwide television speech today, the time of which was indefinite.

The Washington announcement coincided with other developments in plummeting U.S.-Cuban relations.

The government - controlled press in war-type banner lines said the 300 Marines already at Guantanamo were polishing up their training with realistic combat exercises. A Marine has been killed and three have been injured by mines planted along the perimeter of the base, these reports said.

Cuban authorities at Santiago, near Guantanamo, were said to be concerned that the United States was preparing a fake attack against the big naval installation as a pretext for armed aggression against Cuba.

The U.S. State Department asked a special six-nation committee of the Organization of American States to investigate its charges that thousands of tons of Soviet bloc arms have been shipped to Cuba along with Communist technicians to train Cubans in their use. The committee was set up last August to look into U.S.-Cuban disputes.

Sources in Havana said they had information that Cuba has imported more than 22,000 tons of arms and munitions from Iron Curtain countries since Aug. 1. Knocked-down aircraft — either helicopters or jet fighters — were reported among shipments unloaded at out-of-the-way ports.

The United Nations announced that the full General Assembly would meet Monday to hear a new appeal by Cuba for a quick hearing on its charges that the United States plans a grand-scale invasion.

3 Boys Face Quizzing In Theft Series

Three young city boys are being held by police for questioning in a series of burglaries after they were nabbed while robbing an auto equipment company Friday night.

The three, all about 14, were caught in the building at E. 6th and Walnut Sts. which houses Ceramic Auto Supply and A. & M. Auto Equipment, police said.

The trio had taken six watches, two transistor radios and miscellaneous merchandise, Lt. T. A. Walker said. They pried loose a rear window to enter the building, officers added.

Interrogation of the three is continuing, Lt. Walker said, in an attempt to clear up other burglaries. The three have admitted some 10 thefts, he said, but will be questioned further on others.

When the investigation is completed, they will be turned over to Juvenile Court authorities.

Meanwhile, police were advised a soft drink vending machine at Central Service was damaged extensively Friday night but an attempt to pry loose a metal coin box was unsuccessful.

The attempted theft occurred between 9 p. m. Friday and 8 a. m. today, police were told by Basil Mangano. Located in the firm's open display area on W. 7th St., the machine is owned by the Coca Cola Bottling Co.

Gas Station Looted; Coal Office Entered

Thieves took 15 tires, including 8 recaps, a half case of anti-freeze and an undetermined amount of money from a cigarette machine in a burglary at Ron's Gulf station at the junction of Route 267 and the Y. & O. Rd. between Friday night and early today.

Sheriff Russel J. VanFossan said Ronald Evelsizer, owner, reported the forcible entry, second burglary in the vicinity during the night.

Locks were broken from the doors of the R. & R. Coal Co. office on the Y. & O. Rd. northwest of Glenmoor but nothing apparently was taken. The thieves ransacked the desk drawers and files in a hunt for money.

Vote Awaited On Record 44 Special Issues

Income Tax Plan, Renewal Of Garbage Levy On City Ballot

Columbiana County's cities, villages, townships and school districts will vote on a record-breaking 44 bond issues, tax levies and other special questions and issues in connection with the Nov. 8 general election.

The proposals include two in East Liverpool — an initiative ordinance that would establish a municipal income tax of eight-tenths of 1 per cent and renewal of a long-standing 2-mill levy that provides funds for garbage and trash collection service.

Four propositions are on the ballot at Wellsville. They are: a new half-mill levy for playgrounds, renewal of a 1.8-mill levy for street lighting, a 6.6-mill school levy — also a renewal — and an initiative ordinance that would cut the police department's work week to 40 hours.

Salem will act on a proposal for a charter form of municipal government, electing 15 members to a commission to draft a charter. Twenty-six seek posts on the commission, which will function only if voters approve the first part of he question: "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter?"

Two other propositions await Salem voters: Renewal of a half-mill park levy and an initiative ordinance to cut the fire department's work week to 56 hours. Ad-

Absentee Ballot Issuance Hits 1,325

Still rushed by voters anxious to cast ballots in the Nov. 8 general election, the County Election Board said today it has issued 1,325 absentee, soldier and presidential ballots.

Frank E. O'Hanlon, clerk, said 918 ballots have been issued for civilians, who will be either absent from their polling place on Election Day or are disabled, along with 361 for armed forces personnel who will cast ballots under the so-called "soldier voting" law.

Another 36 new residents have qualified to vote only on the presidential contest under a new Ohio law, he said.

Four propositions are on the ballot at Wellsville. They are: a new half-mill levy for playgrounds, renewal of a 1.6-mill levy for street lighting, a 6.6-mill school levy — also a renewal — and an initiative ordinance that would cut the police department's work week to 40 hours.

Salem will act on a proposal for a charter form of municipal government, electing 15 members to a commission to draft a charter. Twenty-six seek posts on the commission, which will function only if voters approve the first part of the question: "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter?"

Two other propositions await Salem voters: Renewal of a half-mill park levy and an initiative ordinance to cut the fire department's work week to 56 hours. Ad-

'Foggy Mind' Sunday? Turn Clocks Tonight

If you expect to wake up Sunday with a foggy mind, then turn your clocks back an hour before you retire tonight.

That's the final reminder that Daylight Saving Time ends Sunday morning at 2 when Eastern Standard Time is resumed. An hour of sleep was lost with the time change in April and that will be regained tonight.

Motorists may be "foggy minded" again tomorrow as the temperature forecast indicates the dense white blanket that shrouded the Ohio Valley this morning may be repeated Sunday.

The low range tonight will be 44 to 50 degrees, slightly milder. Sunday will be partly cloudy but mild.

2 Men At Wellsville Receive Prison Terms

Two Wellsville defendants convicted by juries in Common Pleas Court were denied new trials and sentenced to prison Friday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

William H. Thomas, 45, of 1010 Anderson Ave., was sentenced to 1-15 years for assault with intent to rape.

Judge Buzzard granted a stay of sentence to Thomas after his attorney said he would take the case to the 7th District Court of Appeals. Thomas' bond of $2,000 was continued.

U.N. Guards British Writer After Threat

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Associated Press correspondent Michael Goldsmith was taken under United Nations protection today after a squad of armed Congolese soldiers attempted to break into his room.

The soldiers barged into the Memling Hotel where Goldsmith was staying, shouting that they were carrying out orders of Col. Joseph Mobutu, Congolese army chief.

Mobutu announced three days ago he would ask Goldsmith to leave the country. Goldsmith has been reporting acts of violence by Mobutu's soldiers and the charges of U. N. representatives that Belgian military instructors have been trying to undermine them. Similar reports have been filed by other correspondents.

The 18-man Congolese squad started pounding at Goldsmith's door at 6:45 a. m. Goldsmith refused to open the door and telephoned Indian Gen. I. Rikhye of the U. N. staff.

Within minutes, a multinational squad of U. N. soldiers and military police arrived and the Congolese withdrew.

Plane Crash Fatal To 12; Probe Opens

FRENCHTOWN, Mont. (AP) — Investigators sought an explanation today for the crash of a Northwest Airlines passenger plane which overturned in the air, plunging against a mountainside.

Eight passengers, three crew members and a hitchhiking stewardess died Friday in the burning wreckage scattered over a quarter-mile.

Flying low in cloudy weather, the airliner bound for Minneapolis from Portland, Ore., was due to make an instrument landing less than 20 minutes later in Missoula, in the mountains of western Montana.

"It started to roll over on its back," Sue Hough said after watching the crash. "It hit with a tremendous noise and blaze."

"As the plane headed toward the mountain," said another witness, Dave Anderson, "it winged over on its back and crashed upside down against the mountain."

Like a rearing tank, the four-engine plane skidded through the timber. Two engines hurtled 100 yards down the hillside. A door was flipped into a clump of trees a half-mile away.

The Ohio Legislature, at its last session, authorized the teacher retirement system to use dormant, reserve funds to purchase rights-of-way.

The state indicated it would buy them back, possibly after five years, and pay interest to the retirement system.

In turning down the proposal, the ECOTA indicated it supported more long-range investment of its funds, instead of short-term investments as the rights-of-way might entail.

The main convention session was held yesterday morning in Canton's Memorial Auditorium where Dr. John Ciardi, professor of literature at Rutgers University, was principal speaker.

Cuba

In Moscow Tass issued an account of an interview premier Khrushchev gave Cuban newsmen in which the Soviet news agency quoted the premier as saying his promise of rocket support to Cuba in event of American aggression "should be considered symbolic."

Earlier, Revolucion, the Castro organ, had said Khrushchev was asked if Soviet rockets were ready to assist Cuba in case of need and quoted him as answering: "Unquestionably. But it's better that there be no aggression, as we will do everything possible to avoid using our rockets."

Tass further quoted Khrushchev: "It is essential that the imperilaist threat of intervention against Cuba should not materialize into military operations and then there will be no need to confirm the reality of our statement about armed assistance to the people of Cuba against aggression."

Some Americans in Moscow were reported believing Khrushchev had pulled the rug slightly from under Castro who has been boasting about the earlier promise of rocket aid.

bia to the State Highway Department for right-of-way purchases.

The Ohio Legislature, at its last session, authorized the teacher retirement system to use dormant, reserve funds to purchase rights-of-way.

The state indicated it would buy them back, possibly after five years, and pay interest to the retirement system.

In turning down the proposal, the ECOTA indicated it supported more long-range investment of its funds, instead of short-term investments as the rights-of-way might entail.

The main convention session was held yesterday morning in Canton's Memorial Auditorium where Dr. John Ciardi, professor of literature at Rutgers University, was principal speaker.

Cuba

In Moscow Tass issued an account of an interview premier Khrushchev gave Cuban newsmen in which the Soviet news agency quoted the premier as saying his promise of rocket support to Cuba in event of American aggression "should be considered symbolic."

Earlier, Revolucion, the Castro organ, had said Khrushchev was asked if Soviet rockets were ready to assist Cuba in case of need and quoted him as answering: "Unquestionably. But it's better that there be no aggression, as we will do everything possible to avoid using our rockets."

Tass further quoted Khrushchev: "It is essential that the imperialist threat of intervention against Cuba should not materialize into military operations and then there will be no need to confirm the reality of our statement about armed assistance to the people of Cuba against aggression."

Some Americans in Moscow were reported believing Khrushchev had pulled the rug slightly from under Castro who has been boasting about the earlier promise of rocket aid.

United Negro College Fund's Aims Explained To Lions Club

The purposes and needs of the United Negro College Fund were outlined to the Lions Club by Walter T. Diehl; secretary of the Mahoning-Shenango-Ohio Valley unit, Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

Diehl pointed out the fund was launched in 1944 when 31 Negro colleges banned together for a joint campaign rather than holding 31 separate drives to keep their doors open.

Thirty-three colleges now participate, all but one located in the South where 12 of the nation's 18 million Negroes reside.

The fund has grown gradually and proceeds now are used to provide scholarships for an average 40 per cent of the Negro students, double the national average, increases in instructors' salaries and library and laboratory equipment. Funds for capital improvements are handled separately, he explained.

All the colleges are accredited and some have integrated faculties and student bodies. None is segregated, Diehl said.

The colleges turn out the kind of leaders communities and the nation can use, he continued, explaining many of the top leaders of the newly-independent African nations attended UNCF colleges.

"Why contribute to a cause beyond your own community? The dividends return in the form of professional people and others who will be among the leaders not only of the community but of the nation and world," Diehl said.

The goal in the immediate Tri-State area is $1,500 and the solicitation is being conducted by mail.

He was introduced by John T. Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ and chairman of the local campaign.

Hugh Frost of Youngstown, executive secretary of the McGuffey Center, was a guest. Leo C. Lawrence was program chairman.

George McCullough, district deputy governor, announced the club members and their wives will visit the Westinghouse Corp. plant in Beaver Wednesday night.

Hancock 4-H Wins Ribbon

Hancock County has received a blue ribbon award for its annual countywide safety program, according to C. P. Dorsey, state 4-H club leader.

Miss Helen Petrakis, county agent, said some of the high points of the safety program in Chester, Newell, New Cumberland and Weirton, were eight window displays on home safety, a safety quiz, and operation of an active safety committee.

The 4-H leaders committee responsible for the county safety program included Miss Martha Troop of Arroyo, chairman and Mrs. John Bender, Mrs. Eva Cecil, Mrs. Edward Dofka, Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson, James Porter and C. L. Nay.

The Hilltop Ramblers 4-H club of Weirton Heights, with Mrs. Everett Harless as leader, was one of 10 clubs in West Virginia awarded a certificate of recognition for its excellence in safety activities.

Officers said Powell first went off the west side of the road. He swerved back onto the highway, then back off again and crashed into a large rock. The car then veered across the highway and plunged into a ditch.

The car was heavily damaged. This was the lone accident investigated by the patrol Friday.

Reminders On Doorknobs

Boy Scouts' Project Urges Voting

The annual "Get-Out-the-Vote" campaign was launched today by the Columbiana Boy Scout Council as part of the national scout program. Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts are distributing doorknob hangers urging residents to vote at the Nov. 8 election.

Charles McBride is chairman of the campaign in East Liverpool proper. Other chairmen are Joshua Peachey and Don Jewell, East End; Glen Morris, Calcutta area; Ralph Beaver, Chester; George Lee, Newell; Charles Stone, Wellsville; Andy Emerick, Salineville; Bob Charlton, West Point, and Jack Hanley, Summitville.

Forty-three units in the Cherokee District will participate. Some 14,000 of the hangers will be distributed.

United Negro College Fund's Aims Explained To Lions Club

The purposes and needs of the United Negro College Fund were outlined to the Lions Club by Walter T. Diehl, secretary of the Mahoning-Shenango-Ohio Valley unit, Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

Diehl pointed out the fund was launched in 1944 when 31 Negro colleges banned together for a joint campaign rather than holding 31 separate drives to keep their doors open.

Thirty-three colleges now participate, all but one located in the South where 12 of the nation's 18 million Negroes reside.

The fund has grown gradually and proceeds now are used to provide scholarships for an average 40 per cent of the Negro students, double the national average, increases in instructors' salaries and library and laboratory equipment. Funds for capital improvements are handled separately, he explained.

All the colleges are accredited and some have integrated faculties and student bodies. None is segregated, Diehl said.

The colleges turn out the kind of leaders communities and the nation can use, he continued, explaining many of the top leaders of the newly-independent African nations attended UNCF colleges.

"Why contribute to a cause beyond your own community? The dividends return in the form of professional people and others who will be among the leaders not only of the community but of the nation and world," Diehl said.

The goal in the immediate Tri-State area is $1,500 and the solicitation is being conducted by mail.

He was introduced by John T. Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ and chairman of the local campaign.

Hugh Frost of Youngstown, executive secretary of the McGuffey Center, was a guest. Leo C. Lawrence was program chairman.

George McCullough, district deputy governor, announced the club members and their wives will visit the Westinghouse Corp. plant in Beaver Wednesday night.

Howard E. Tice, president, announced the zone chairman, Dr. John Snively, will speak at next Friday's luncheon.

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—The Warren Chamber of Commerce and Trumbull County officials have voiced strong opposition to the proposed location of Interstate 80 (Keystone Shortway) from Ohio 90 north of Youngstown eastward to the Pennsylvania line. "The proposed route is quite obviously much longer and would be more expensive," he said. Trumbull County officials opposed the route similarly at a hearing Thursday in Hubbard.

In other business, trustees voted to pay $40 per month to each fire department for fire service telephones. The phones are in private homes and each departement will pay the owners.

Keep Rhodes On The Job

The top Ohio contest on the Nov. 8 ballot should get special attention by voters.

It is the race for state auditor between James A. Rhodes and James D. Ferguson. Rhodes is a Republican. Ferguson is a Democrat.

Ohio newspapers are alerting their readers to a singular fact about Ferguson—that he is the son of Joseph T. Ferguson. So what?

So Joseph T. Ferguson is the treasurer of Ohio, and his son is hoping to become the auditor of Ohio, an arrangement that would put the son in charge of auditing his father's accounts.

Assuming that both Fergusons would be utterly honest in all their proceedings, the impropriety of such an arrangement would be shocking.

FORTUNATELY for Ohioans, the auditor's office already is in good hands.

Jim Rhodes was elected state auditor in 1953 and since then has brought the operation of the office up to snuff.

Mr. Rhodes had been mayor of Columbus for three terms before he sought a state office. Before he ran for mayor he had been city auditor of Columbus for two terms.

He is a topnotch official who takes deep pride in running an efficient department. Under him, the auditor's office has been so meticulously administered that he can boast 25 million state checks have been issued on time—something no previous auditor could have claimed.

The danger in this contest is the possibility that Ohio voters may not realize they are deciding on a father-son tieup in state offices.

Joseph T. Ferguson is a perennial favorite among Ohio Democrats.

James D. Ferguson hopes to clean up on his father's popularity. There is no other reason for his effort to jump from an examiner's job in the Ohio Welfare Department to state auditor. He has no name or reputation of his own to justify his candidacy for a top office.

OHIO VOTERS do not want a father-son team monopolizing Ohio financial control. Joe Ferguson already has one son working for him as an administrative assistant — Thomas E. Ferguson. That should be enough.

It is the responsibility of Ohio voters to make sure he does not have another son auditing his books.

The auditing job should continue to be done by State Auditor Rhodes, who is seeking his third four-year term on a job he has done so well no one has any legitimate complaints.

More Bright Words About The Valley

The drums can't be beaten too often on behalf of the industrial potential of the Ohio Valley. What is good for the valley is good in a general sense for the East Liverpool district.

It seems fitting, therefore, to pass along the latest optimistic remarks which came this week from the annual meeting of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association at Cincinnati.

Continued expansion of the industrial and transportation complex of the valley was predicted by business and government authorities attending the meeting. They expressed the belief that the valley's industrial climate —which has attracted $15 billion in plant expansion since 1950—will become even more attractive in the future.

Further development of atomic power, greater use of coal, improved low cost river transportation and expanded facilities were seen as keys to a continued vital role in the nation's economy.

Phillip Sporn, president of the American Electric Co., declared coal will become utilized in greater volume than at present to help fill the gap in energy needs of the nation.

Brig. Gen. W. W. Lapsley, Ohio River division engineer, said the existing transportation facilities all over the nation will soon be taxed to the limit and a large increase in capacity will be needed.

He pointed out that the Corps of Engineers present river improvement program — including the Stratton super dam—will have furnished the river with 19 modern dual lock dams, replacing 46 outmoded ones.

The Cincinnati meeting represents another link in the chain of events signifying continued progress for the valley.

The Chinese Really Meant It

There have been 10 years to think things over since the Communist Chinese poured into the Korean War, to the dismay of the United States, which bore the brunt of the fighting for the United Nations.

To this day it is impossible to see how a failure of communication with such disastrous consequences could have been averted in 1950. Even more frightening than what happened then is the prospect it might happen again.

United Nations forces had paused at the 38th parallel in September 1950. It was agreed by top United Nations officials that Gen. MacArthur had authority to order a crossing, but the point was indecisive.

South Korean troops under Gen. MacArthur's command crossed the 38th parallel on Oct. 1. On Oct. 7, the U.N. General Assembly voted 47-5 with seven abstentions to authorize the crossing. On the same day, the Army First Cavalry crossed the line.

That was a "crossing of the Rubicon," but the fact was not known until a month later when Gen. MacArthur notified the United Nations that a "new foe" had appeared in North Korea—some 60,000 Chinese Communist with another 60,000 estimated to be on their way to Korea from Manchuria.

The climactic blow was struck on Nov. 28 when a Chinese counterattack nearly doomed the Allied expedition in Korea and deprived the United Nations forces of any chance to score a real victory. What happened?

It is now historic fact that India's ambassador in Peiping sent New Delhi full reports that Communist China would regard a crossing of the 38th parallel as a hostile act threatening its security and would not tolerate it. This information was transmitted to the United States and Great Britain. Yet, it was not taken seriously. By January, the Allied troops were pushed back beyond Seoul. There had been more than a defeat; there had been a rout.

When it was too late, everybody knew the Chinese really meant it when they said a crossing of the 38th parallel would be regarded as a hostile and threatening act. But at the time, no one even knew there had been an edict to that effect relayed to the United States by New Delhi.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Castro has seized hundreds of American businesses, small, medium, large, including dry-cleaning establishments. The revolt against Fidel may be speeded up when Cubans begin to get their clothes back with the grease spots still on them.

He has grabbed Coca Cola. This can be taken as another provocation to America if he uses Russian jungles.

Sears-Roebuck has also been seized. Will the customer who complains to Fidel that the product advertised in catalogue is not in stock invite immediate arrest?

Woolworth's, too, is among hundreds where Fidel is now behind the counter. Now it can be determined whether a bushy beard slows up as clerk at the pins and needles counter.

U.S. Group Aids Ties With Africa

By Victor Riesel

You've probably never heard of the "city" of Aba, Nigera. But you've heard much recently about U.S. prestige. The two are tied together in an icy war in politically hot Africa — tied together by some hard-working Americans fighting the Soviets for the friendship of several hundred million people.

Victor Riesel

One of these chaps is a Republican labor leader. The others are for John Kennedy.

To these fellows, American prestige is a global voluntary assignment, not a political argument. They're sophisticates.

They know what few appear to realize — that whoever controls the new labor movements of the new nations soon will be the most powerful influence in those lands.

They know that the Soviets are pouring special agents, trained Communist union strategists, typewriters, mimeograph machines, paper and other equipment, such as money, into these new capitals via pro-Communist Guinea.

BY "THESE FELLOWS," I refer to Lee Minton, an AFL-CIO Executive Council member and a Republican, and some of his colleagues who are ceaselessly Democrats. Minton heads a special committee working through CARE.

They are aware, for example, that just one small section of the Soviet global labor apparatus, the East German Trade Unions, has sent over a million dollars in medicine and clothing to the rebel Algerians. Also in East Germany there are special rest homes for wounded Algerian troops.

Also from East Germany there flow small cars and film equipment to pro-Communist labor organizations throughout West Africa.

There are new trade union schools for Africans in East Germany — and the one in Leipzig houses a Congo delegation.

There's built-in prestige for the African who owns an educational film projector in a land where the average annual income is $50. Annual is correct. Those are Gold Coast, Ivory Coast and Guinea statistics.

TO OFFSET THIS Soviet operation, AFL-CIO president George Meany appointed Lee Minton, the glass bottle blowers leader, to work through CARE in the dispatching of special Trade Union Kits to our friends abroad.

Each kit contains a typewriter, a letter duplicator, five hundred stencils, 10 one-pound cans of ink, one stylus, some other equipment and an instruction book.

About 18 months ago this committee sent a single typewriter and duplicating kit to the "Eastern Region Dev. Corporation Workers Union" at 144 Jubilee Rd., Aba, Nigeria. There was a reply from the union's general secretary, B. M. Udokporo.

It was dug out of the files for me. This is part of the history of the icy war. It shows how battles are won in far off places long before they become crises in nearby Manhattan.

"We are at a complete loss," said the letter from Aba, "to express our appreciation for the gift . . . the executive council which met following the receipt of your letter felt overwhelmed with joy and have requested me to convey their greatefulness. . . .

"We are looking forward to being able to achieve trade union solidarity in this country and will be only too happy to achieve such financial stability that will enable us to exchange this type of gifts (sic), thus enabling the less developed territories to be our beneficiaries.

"MY UNION is now strenuously working to collect funds for the purchase of its own transport so as to be able to organize more effectively the thousands of plantation workers. . . .

"Finally, I want to say that the news about this gift was broadcast throughout the network of the Nigeria Broadcasting Corp. and it has certainly created an impact on both American - Nigeria relations and on the trade union movement as a whole."

There you have it in a land with some 38 million people already infiltrated by Soviet agents. The Africans fronting for the Russians need not worry about "transport" as our friends do. And our supporters are good friends of the United States I have spoken to their delegations here.

All they ask is that we make it possible for them to fight off the Soviets and stay with the West.

Back At The Ranch

By Truman Twill

Only the telephone company knows why this story happened. It was discovered in the course of trying to put through a call to the ranch that the lady who holds down the fort there during the day and was scheduled to be holding it down that day did not answer. This was puzzling. It was strange. It was alarming.

Calls were put through from different points, after consultation. The sound of the bell could be heard clearly. It was the right ring. Everything was as it should be, except no one answered. This became even stranger when it was remembered that the woman from the nearby farm who drops in to help with the housework occasionally was scheduled to be on the premises. Where was she?

The telephone company could offer nothing by way of comfort, except to say if the fault was theirs they would try to fix it before 8 p.m. But first, the company had to know something was out of order. After all, the telephone was ringing.

So, in the hope the ringing telephone would be answered, a call was put through every few minutes. Meanwhile, back at the ranch there was trouble.

The lady who holds the fort kept answering the telephone every time it rang. No voice came through. The ringing just went on and on and on. And the neighbor woman who was scheduled to be there was there, all right. Her daughter on the second farm to the north was trying to call her, too. That made even more confusion.

The daughter was frantic. She could hear the phone ringing. She knew her mother was there. She knew something had to be wrong. So she called her sister, and the two of them mapped a plan of action. The sister would arrive in a few minutes and the pair would drive to the rescue.

Meanwhile . . .

The neighbor woman saw a sheep stranded on the wrong side of the creek. Sheep are afraid of water. This one apparently had crossed the creek in a panic while being pursued by a dog.

So the neighbor woman mapped her plan of action. She would drive her car to a point where she could reach the sheep, then she would lasso it, drag it across the shallow water in the creek bed and drive it home. She borrowed a pair of boots for the creek-crossing.

Meanwhile . . .

Her daughters, armed with kitchen knives, came across their mother's abandoned automobile. Her shoes were on the front seat. There had been foul play, obviously. They stepped on the gas and brandished their cutlery.

Meanwhile . . .

All other parties concerned with the evidence of foul play were converging. When they finally came together, with tension crackling and every sign pointing to the imminent discovery of disaster, they found two fort-holders, one wet and weary both wondering how much longer they could stand the incessant ringing of a telephone that couldn't be answered.

The tension exploded and everybody could see the humor of the situation, especially the neighbor lady holding her sides at the sight of her fire-eating daughters who had ridden to her rescue armed with kitchen knives.

The telephone company was duly notified and in due time everything again was peaceful back at the ranch.

Letters To The Editor

'Live By The Great Commandants'

This letter is really addressed to our Roman Catholic friends of the whole community. Tomorrow morning the Trinity United Presbyterian Church will be celebrating the 400th anniversary of the Scottish Reformation. The Presbyterian Church is a reformation church. That means it had its origin in the religious and political events which occurred 400 years ago, or more, in Europe.

As a reformation church we have commemorated these events year after year. The object of such services is not primarily to recall the unhappy and divisive aspects of an event in history, but to strengthen ourselves in the simple fundamentals of the Christian faith so that we may openly and courageously live them in a day that desperately needs Christian witness.

In neither the service nor the sermon will there be any overtones or undertones applying to either of the presidential candidates. The 1960 General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church meeting in Cleveland specifically stated that "it is an act of irresponsible citizenship to support or oppose a candidate soley because of his religious affiliation".

We are a "pluralistic" nation, which means that we are a nation made up of a diversity of races, creeds, nationalities and conditions living together as a harmonious whole. The Declaration of Independence, which was signed by a Presbyterian minister and a Roman Catholic layman, and the Constitution guarantee, so long as we will honor them, freedom and liberty, in both religion and politics to all groups among us.

When any one group of us starts to deface any part of those revered documents by denying their rights we deliberately start to wreck the structure on which this great nation was built and expose it to destruction by a communism which is diametrically opposed to human freedom and liberty.

We Protestants are not ashamed of our faith, nor do we in any way apologize for our expressions of our faith in Jesus Christ. Our stand is firm, valid and strong. Naturally, we seek to persuade all men to the truth of our position, but we do not deny to other groups the right to do the same for theirs. The difference between us and Roman Catholics are wide and deep. Although some of us in both churches sincerely long and pray for a reunion of all Christendom, that great event now seems destined only for some far distant future time.

Until the Protestants and Catholics can live and order their lives by the great commandments which are at the very center of both our faiths "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and thy neighbor as thyself".

Writer Cites 'Lack Of Knowledge'

Having read scores of letters printed in The Review by you both favoring and opposing the political party which The Review evidently favors, I doubt if any reasonable person can doubt the honesty, sincerity and nonpartisan attitude of The Review staff.

I feel certain you are just as fair in religious matters. I write this letter as one of 30 some million Catholics in the U.S.A. It is a direct rebuttal to the letter by Rev. M. O. Bowman which appeared in the Oct. 27 Review. To Rev. Bowman:

Permit me to state some facts. Within a very few feet of the main entrance of the White House in Washington, D. C., there is a large picture of Columbus landing in America. One of the first men to step ashore after Columbus was a Franciscan priest. There was no Protestant faith anywhere on earth until nearly 200 years later. So what church can lay more claim to playing a great part in the founding of the great American country than the Catholic Church?

Christ formed a church. He said upon this rock you will build my church, against it the doors of Hell shall never prevail. The word church was singular. There is one Catholic Church in the world. There are 278 Protestant churches in the U.S.A. alone. The oldest Protestant church is about 400 years old. The Catholic Church is almost 2,000 years old. If the Catholic Church went wrong, then Christ either lied when he said the doors of Hell would never prevail against the church he formed or else the Catholic Church is still that church.

Please don't anybody show their ignorance or prejudice by preaching a Catholic shouldn't be allowed to become president.

You condemn Catholics for giving opinions on politicians who act in a manner which directly offends the laws of God and his church on matters of morals and faith, then you preach from your pulpits that your people should not vote for a Catholic. Aren't Catholics Americans? I think people like you do Mr. Kennedy a world of good. You will put him in the White House more by your prejudice than anything I can think of.

You can misquote, misinterpret and misunderstand articles put out by the Catholic Church all you want, but you aren't convincing anyone who has good sense of anything except you don't practice what you preach. Judge and you shall be judged. Christ said to the men whom he chose to lead his church, "I shall be with you all days even until the consummation of the earth." When you condemn this church and its leaders you condemn Christ.

Rev. Bowman, I pity people like you for your lack of knowledge and I most certainly shall pray for you.

The Foreign Issues

By Jay G. Hayden

Clear evidence that foreign issues will be increasingly predominant in the last fortnight of the current U.S. presidential campaign is nothing new. It has been so in every quadrennium beginning with 1940.

In each of the intervening campaigns, except 1952, this circumstance worked to the benefit of the administration in power. But if so this year, it remains to be proved. Until now, Sen. Kennedy has seemed to be gaining ground against Vice President Nixon, who must carry the banner of President Eisenhower.

Consider the last four presidential campaigns. In 1940 the big news was the German conquest of Norway, the Low Countries and France, and right in the midst of the presidential show the German air blitz of Great Britain.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, running for his third term, somehow managed to put over the conception that he was at one and the same time for Great Britain but against any U. S. armed involvement.

Roosevelt's final campaign speech at Boston pledged that no American soldier would be sent to fight on foreign soil. Roosevelt won in a walk.

Less than two years thereafter the United States was in the fight all the way, precipitated of course by Japan's sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

THE 1944 ELECTION came just as allied forces were sweeping into Germany, in the first wholly successful Western attack and with clear signs that the end of the war was not far off.

In 1948, President Truman's bid for election almost certainly was saved by the Russian attempt to starve out West Berlin, begun, to the surprise of all American politicians, almost at the moment the presidential nomination were completed.

There was a suggestion then that Russia chose its moment for that foray in the belief that U.S. reaction would be paralyzed by the presidential campaign.

It didn't work that way. Truman called in Republican congressional leaders, especially Sens. Arthur Vandenberg and Robert A. Taft, with the result that there was an immediate bipartisan agreement that Berlin must be defended to the last ditch.

Notably, that election retaining Truman in the White House was scarcely over before Josef Stalin began backing water. In the following spring the Russians abandoned their attempt to isolate Berlin, totally without any U.S. counterconcession.

1952 was noteworthy in this 20-year period in that Gen. Eisenhower, rather than the Truman-backed Democratic nominee, Adlai Stevenson, was elected.

Keep Rhodes On The Job

The top Ohio contest on the Nov. 8 ballot should get special attention by voters.

It is the race for state auditor between James A. Rhodes and James D. Ferguson. Rhodes is a Republican. Ferguson is a Democrat.

Ohio newspapers are alerting their readers to a singular fact about Ferguson—that he is the son of Joseph T. Ferguson. So what?

So Joseph T. Ferguson is the treasurer of Ohio, and his son is hoping to become the auditor of Ohio, an arrangement that would put the son in charge of auditing his father's accounts.

Assuming that both Fergusons would be utterly honest in all their proceedings, the impropriety of such an arrangement would be shocking.

FORTUNATELY for Ohioans, the auditor's office already is in good hands.

Jim Rhodes was elected state auditor in 1953 and since then has brought the operation of the office up to snuff.

Mr. Rhodes had been mayor of Columbus for three terms before he sought a state office. Before he ran for mayor he had been city auditor of Columbus for two terms.

He is a topnotch official who takes deep pride in running an efficient department. Under him, the auditor's office has been so meticulously administered that he can boast 25 million state checks have been issued on time—something no previous auditor could have claimed.

The danger in this contest is the possibility that Ohio voters may not realize they are deciding on a father-son tieup in state offices.

Joseph T. Ferguson is a perennial favorite among Ohio Democrats.

James D. Ferguson hopes to clean up on his father's popularity. There is no other reason for his effort to jump from an examiner's job in the Ohio Welfare Department to state auditor. He has no name or reputation of his own to justify his candidacy for a top office.

OHIO VOTERS do not want a father-son team monopolizing Ohio financial control. Joe Ferguson already has one son working for him as an administrative assistant — Thomas E. Ferguson. That should be enough.

It is the responsibility of Ohio voters to make sure he does not have another son auditing his books.

The auditing job should continue to be done by State Auditor Rhodes, who is seeking his third four-year term on a job he has done so well no one has any legitimate complaints.

More Bright Words About The Valley

The drums can't be beaten too often on behalf of the industrial potential of the Ohio Valley. What is good for the valley is good in a general sense for the East Liverpool district.

It seems fitting, therefore, to pass along the latest optimistic remarks which came this week from the annual meeting of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association at Cincinnati.

Continued expansion of the industrial and transportation complex of the valley was predicted by business and government authorities attending the meeting. They expressed the belief that the valley's industrial climate —which has attracted $15 billion in plant expansion since 1950—will become even more attractive in the future.

Further development of atomic power, greater use of coal, improved low cost river transportation and expanded facilities were seen as keys to a continued vital role in the nation's economy.

Phillip Sporn, president of the American Electric Co., declared coal will become utilized in greater volume than at present to help fill the gap in energy needs of the nation.

Brig. Gen. W. W. Lapsley, Ohio River division engineer, said the existing transportation facilities all over the nation will soon be taxed to the limit and a large increase in capacity will be needed.

He pointed out that the Corps of Engineers present river improvement program — including the Stratton super dam—will have furnished the river with 19 modern dual lock dams, replacing 46 outmoded ones.

The Cincinnati meeting represents another link in the chain of events signifying continued progress for the valley.

The Chinese Really Meant It

There have been 10 years to think things over since the Communist Chinese poured into the Korean War, to the dismay of the United States, which bore the brunt of the fighting for the United Nations.

To this day it is impossible to see how a failure of communication with such disastrous consequences could have been averted in 1950. Even more frightening than what happened then is the prospect it might happen again.

United Nations forces had paused at the 38th parallel in September 1950. It was agreed by top United Nations officials that Gen. MacArthur had authority to order a crossing, but the point was indecisive.

South Korean troops under Gen. MacArthur's command crossed the 38th parallel on Oct. 1. On Oct. 7, the U.N. General Assembly voted 47-5 with seven abstentions to authorize the crossing. On the same day, the Army First Cavalry crossed the line.

That was a "crossing of the Rubicon," but the fact was not known until a month later when Gen. MacArthur notified the United Nations that a "new foe" had appeared in North Korea—some 60,000 Chinese Communist with another 40,000 estimated to be on their way to Korea from Manchuria.

The climactic blow was struck on Nov. 28 when a Chinese countrattack nearly doomed the Allied expedition in Korea and deprived the United Nations forces of any chance to score a real victory. What happened?

It is now historic fact that India's ambassador in Peiping sent New Delhi full reports that Communist China would regard a crossing of the 38th parallel as a hostile act, threatening its security and would not tolerate it. This information was transmitted to the United States and Great Britain. Yet, it was not taken seriously. By January, the Allied troops were pushed back beyond Seoul. There had been more than a defeat; there had been a rout.

When it was too late, everybody knew the Chinese really meant it when they said a crossing of the 38th parallel would be regarded as a hostile and threatening act. But at the time, no one even knew there had been an edict to that effect relayed to the United States by New Delhi.

The lady who holds the fort kept answering the telephone every time it rang. No voice came through. The ringing just went on and on and on. And the neighbor woman who was scheduled to be there was there, all right. Her daughter on the second farm to the north was trying to call her, too. That made even more confusion.

The daughter was frantic. She could hear the phone ringing. She knew her mother was there. She knew something had to be wrong. So she called her sister, and the two of them mapped a plan of action. The sister would arrive in a few minutes and the pair would drive to the rescue.

Meanwhile . . .

The neighbor woman saw a sheep stranded on the wrong side of the creek. Sheep are afraid of water. This one apparently had crossed the creek in a panic while being pursued by a dog.

So the neighbor woman mapped her plan of action. She would drive her car to a point where she could reach the sheep, then she would lasso it, drag it across the shallow water in the creek bed and drive it home. She borrowed a pair of boots for the creek-crossing.

Meanwhile . . .

Her daughters, armed with kitchen knives, came across their mother's abandoned automobile. Her shoes were on the front seat. There had been foul play, obviously. They stepped on the gas and brandished their cutlery.

Meanwhile . . .

All other parties concerned with the evidence of foul play were converging. When they finally came together, with tension crackling and every sign pointing to the imminent discovery of disaster, they found two fort-holders, one wet and weary both wondering how much longer they could stand the incessant ringing of a telephone that couldn't be answered.

The tension exploded and everybody could see the humor of the situation, especially the neighbor lady holding her sides at the sight of her fire-eating daughters who had ridden to her rescue armed with kitchen knives.

The telephone company was duly notified and in due time everything again was peaceful back at the ranch.

Letters To The Editor

'Live By The Great Commandants'

This letter is really addressed to our Roman Catholic friends of the whole community. Tomorrow morning the Trinity United Presbyterian Church will be celebrating the 400th anniversary of the Scottish Reformation. The Presbyterian Church is a reformation church. That means it had its origin in the religious and political events which occurred 400 years ago, or more, in Europe.

As a reformation church we have commemorated these events year after year. The object of such services is not primarily to recall the unhappy and divisive aspects of an event in history, but to strengthen ourselves in the simple fundamentals of the Christian faith so that we may openly and courageously live them in a day that desperately needs Christian witness.

In neither the service nor the sermon will there be any overtones or undertones applying to either of the presidential candidates. The 1960 General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church meeting in Cleveland specifically stated that "it is an act of irresponsible citizenship to support or oppose a candidate soley because of his religious affiliation".

We are a "pluralistic" nation, which means that we are a nation made up of a diversity of races, creeds, nationalities and conditions living together as a harmonious whole. The Declaration of Independence, which was signed by a Presbyterian minister and a Roman Catholic layman, and the Constitution guarantee, so long as we will honor them, freedom and liberty, in both religion and politics to all groups amohg us.

When any one group of us starts to deface any part of those revered documents by denying their rights we deliberately start to wreck the structure on which this great nation was built and expose it to destruction by a communism which is diametrically opposed to human freedom and liberty.

We Protestants are not ashamed of our faith, nor do we in any way apologize for our expressions of our faith in Jesus Christ. Our stand is firm, valid and strong. Naturally, we seek to persuade all men to the truth of our position, but we do not deny to other groups the right to do the same for theirs. The difference between us and Roman Catholics are wide and deep. Although some of us in both churches sincerely long and pray for a reunion of all Christendom, that great event now seems destined only for some far distant future time.

Until the Protestants and Catholics can live and order their lives by the great commandments which are at the very center of both our faiths "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and thy neighbor as thyself".

Writer Cites 'Lack Of Knowledge'

Having read scores of letters printed in The Review by you both favoring and opposing the political party which The Review evidently favors, I doubt if any reasonable person can doubt the honesty, sincerity and nonpartisan attitude of The Review staff.

I feel certain you are just as fair in religious matters. I write this letter as one of 30 some million Catholics in the U.S.A. It is a direct rebuttal to the letter by Rev. M. O. Bowman which appeared in the Oct. 27 Review. To Rev. Bowman:

Permit me to state some facts. Within a very few feet of the main entrance of the White House in Washington, D. C., there is a large picture of Columbus landing in America. One of the first men to step ashore after Columbus was a Franciscan priest. There was no Protestant faith anywhere on earth until nearly 200 years later. So what church can lay more claim to playing a great part in the founding of the great American country than the Catholic Church?

Christ formed a church. He said upon this rock you will build my church, against it the doors of Hell shall never prevail. The word church was singular. There is one Catholic Church in the world. There are 278 Protestant churches in the U.S.A. alone. The oldest Protestant church is about 400 years old. The Catholic Church is almost 2,000 years old. If the Catholic Church went wrong, then Christ either lied when he said the doors of Hell would never prevail against the church he formed or else the Catholic Church is still that church.

Please don't anybody show their ignorance or prejudice by preaching a Catholic shouldn't be allowed to become president.

You condemn Catholics for giving opinions on politicians who act in a manner which directly offends the laws of God and his church on matters of morals and faith, then you preach from your pulpits that your people should not vote for a Catholic. Aren't Catholics Americans? I think people like you do Mr. Kennedy a world of good. You will put him in the White House more by your prejudice than anything I can think of.

You can misquote, misinterpret and misunderstand articles put out by the Catholic Church all you want, but you aren't convincing anyone who has good sense of anything except you don't practice what you preach. Judge and you shall be judged. Christ said to the men whom he chose to lead his church, "I shall be with you all days even until the consummation of the earth." When you condemn this church and its leaders you condemn Christ.

Rev. Bowman, I pity people like you for your lack of knowledge and I most certainly shall pray for you.

The Foreign Issues

By Jay G. Hayden

Clear evidence that foreign issues will be increasingly predominant in the last fortnight of the current U.S. presidential campaign is nothing new. It has been so in every quadrennium beginning with 1940.

In each of the intervening campaigns, except 1952, this circumstance worked to the benefit of the administration in power. But if so this year, it remains to be proved. Until now, Sen. Kennedy has seemed to be gaining ground against Vice President Nixon, who must carry the banner of President Eisenhower.

Consider the last four presidential campaigns. In 1940 the big news was the German conquest of Norway, the Low Countries and France, and right in the midst of the presidential show the German air blitz of Great Britain.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, running for his third term, somehow managed to put over the conception that he was at one and the same time for Great Britain but against any U. S. armed involvement.

Roosevelt's final campaign speech at Boston pledged that no American soldier would be sent to fight on foreign soil. Roosevelt won in a walk.

Less than two years thereafter the United States was in the fight all the way, precipitated of course by Japan's sneak attack on Pearl Harbor.

THE 1944 ELECTION came just as allied forces were sweeping into Germany, in the first wholly successful Western attack and with clear signs that the end of the war was not far off.

In 1948, President Truman's bid for election almost certainly was saved by the Russian attempt to starve out West Berlin, begun, to the surprise of all American politicians, almost at the moment the presidential nomination were completed.

There was a suggestion then that Russia chose its moment for that foray in the belief that U.S. reaction would be paralyzed by the presidential campaign.

It didn't work that way. Truman called in Republican congressional leaders, especially Sens. Arthur Vandenberg and Robert A. Taft, with the result that there was an immediate bipartisan agreement that Berlin must be defended to the last ditch.

Notably, that election retaining Truman in the White House was scarcely over before Josef Stalin began backing water. In the following spring the Russians abandoned their attempt to isolate Berlin, totally without any U.S. counterconcession.

1952 was noteworthy in this 20-year period in that Gen. Eisenhower, rather than the Truman-backed Democratic nominee, Adlai Stevenson, was elected.

Served 38 Years

Postal Worker Retires

A familiar figure in the garb of a mailman has retired after more than 38 years' service.

Thomas (Jack) Rice is shown picking up a bundle of mail for delivery Friday as he walked his route for the final time, completing 38 years, 6 months and 28 days.

He has literally carried the mail for many years in the downtown area, serving in the business and Dresden Ave. section during the last few years. He also has served routes in the West End and North Side.

Starting with the department April 1, 1922, as a substitute carrier, Rice has survived the hazards of irate dogs and all types of weather.

But there are additional problems as Rice has learned. While at work one day, he was struck by a car while crossing Broadway and E. 5th St. and was idled for 9 weeks with injuries.

Rice, who resides on Maple Dr., Calcutta, said he's not certain of his retirement plans. But fellow workers at the Post Office gave him a suggestion.

On behalf of the employes, Asst. Postmaster Roland T. Kaufman presented Rice with a new fishing rod, spinning reel, tackle box and several lures in a ceremony yesterday morning.

Rice also was presented with a merit certificate from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield for faithful service.

Because of his retirement, Newell G. Poling, 326 Thompson Ave., has been appointed a substitute carrier, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said. Poling qualified in a recent Civil Service examination.

Francis Wallace's New Book About Rockne Now At Library

At the peak of the football season it is always fitting to call attention to one of the greats of that sport, and this year is no exception.

Francis Wallace of Bellaire, the official newspaper correspondent for the University of Notre Dame during the 20's, has written an affectionate biography of one of the greatest football coaches who ever lied, "Knute Rockne."

Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library, said the new book shelf also includes three biographies dealing with aspects of the legal profession.

Sir Sidney Smith, a world renowned expert on forensic medicine, recounts many of the cases in which he was able to aid justice in his autobiography, "Mostly Murder;" Morris Ernst, lawyer for the Civil Liberties Union cause and great promoter of literacy, reminisces in "Touch Wood," and Brad Williams tells of the fabulous legal facts of George T. Davis, criminal lawyer, in his 30-year battle against capital punishment. The title of the latter is "Due Punishment."

Two tales of adventure promise compelling reading: Marion Miller, a Los Angeles housewife, paraded as a Communist for several years and now she relates her experiences in "I Was a Spy!" In "Revolt in Paradise" Ktut Tantri went to Bali to paint but stayed on to help with the battle for independence. The author combines the talents of a Mata Hari and T. E. Lawrence.

Understanding what makes the human animal tick is a goal which most seek. Ernest Dichter, resident of the Institute for Motivational Research, gives the advertising industry's answer to Vance Packard's "The Hidden Persuaders." A well-known educator and member of the Mormon church, David O. McKay supplies advice and guidance in "Secrets of a Happy Life." J. C. Penney, whose great success story is already widely known, has added a postscript to his autobiography in "View from the Ninth Decade." His conviction is that folks should never retire but instead should just plan a change of activities.

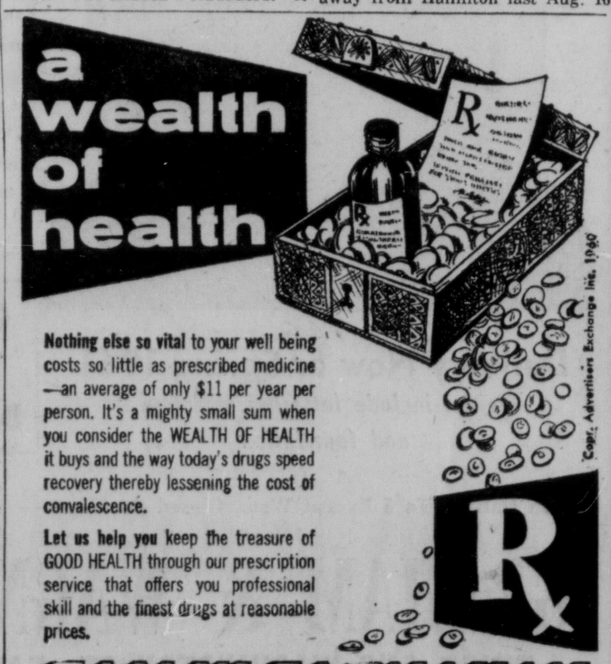

Novels of interest to the adult are another family story, the 32nd by D. E. Stevenson. Its title is "The Musgraves" and its setting is the Cotswold Hills of Western England. The issues of jealousy and competency within the medical profession of Germany make for absorbing reading in a novel by Stefan Oliver, "I Swear and Vow." An enigmatic and beautiful woman with a past provides the foil for the plot of "Sylvia." The author is E. V. Cunningham.

Fiction and fun for teen-ager is also to be found in this week's arrivals:

"Anastia Schultz" is a ridiculous tale about two beatnik girls in college. A 16-year-old boy narrates Jim Kirkwood's "There Must Be a Pony." To supply some laughs there is also a new Dennis the Menace, "Ambassador of Mischief."

Five new members were received. Gary Hicks, president, presided.

A committee headed by Jim Baxter was appointed for the placement of signs containing the high school Alma Mater and the school pledge.

The weekly dance scheduled last night at the high school was canceled because schools were closed yesterday.

Jeff Taylor gave the secretary's report and Ray Goodman the treasurer's report.

Optometrist, 47, Faces 199-Year Term In Slaying

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP) -- Dr. Walter J. Goodpaster, 47, faces a 199-year sentence for murder in the rifle slaying last Christmas day of a woman walking home from a round of taverns.

The Herrin, Ill. optometrist, brother of a White House aide, must serve 66 years before he will be eligible for parole under Illinois law. His attorney was given 30 days to file a motion for a new trial.

A Massac County Circuit jury of 10 men and two women deliberated two hours and 40 minutes to reach the verdict Friday.

Goodpaster, who lost his composure only once in the 11-day trial, remained impassive as the verdict was read. His wife, son and secretary broke into tears.

The victim, Margaret Strunk, 52, mother of 12 children,, was making her way home with the man she lived with, Bernard Dobraski Jr., 33, when the shooting occurred near Goodpaster's rural Carterville home.

New Policy Explained

Health League To Utilize TB Test Instead Of X-Ray

The Columbiana County Public Health League is emphasizing an inexpensive tuberculin test as a mass screening medium, and limiting use of the mobile X-ray unit to selected groups.

This is the substance of a league letter to East Liverpool and Salem health commissions, who had asked why the mobile unit was not scheduled this fall in their communities.

Miss Lillian Schroeder, league executive director, replied that the unit is not scheduled in either city.

The letter included the following policy statement of the league Board of Directors:

Find the infected through tuberculin testing.

Limit the use of mobile X-ray unit to (1) adult positive reactors, (2) areas where a high yield can be expected, (3) in selected segments of the population known to be reservoirs of infection.

When a chest X-ray is a condition of employment, consider the responsibility as that of the employe or employer.

Miss Schroeder noted that this shift of emphasis is, in the board's opinion, consistent with the policy statement of the Ohio Department of Health following the Arden House Conference on Tuberculosis last year.

"It is believed," Miss Schroeder wrote, "that the enormous number of routine repetitive chest X-ray examinations of adults can be drastically reduced, and the case detection nevertheless intensified by identifying the infected person with a reliable, inexpensive tuberculin test.

"To that end, we have been working with school executives and public health officers who have requested our assistance," Miss Schroeder continued.

The Health League piloted the Heaf Tuberculin test last May at Beaver Local School and has a student screening program set up that will reach approximately 10,000 pupils by February.

The Columbiana County Medical Society last week endorsed the Heaf as a screening test to replace the Vollmer patch test, providing the test is interpreted by competent personnel such as a doctor or nurse.

Miss Schroeder said that Dr. Walter L. Evans of the State Health Department's Division of Tuberculosis, speaking to county health and school officials last month at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon, emphasized these points of the Ohio policy:

Renewed emphasis on tuberculin testing; select use of the mobile X-ray unit and use of chemotherapy as a public health measure.

X-ray screening is available at Salem Central Clinic through equipment possible by a grant from the Health League and a gift of the L. H. Brush Trust Fund. Miss Schroeder said this provides continuous screening service at a nominal fee of $1.

She also noted that X-ray service of the Tuberculosis Control Clinic at the Courthouse is available on a referral basis.

The function of a voluntary health agency is public education and demonstration of various case-finding and rehabilitation programs, according to Richard Speidel of Hanoverton, league president, who says the "association is filling its obligation."

The program of continuing case finding and care of infected individuals is the responsibility of the official tax-supported agencies, he added.

Car Stolen Here Found With Wheels Missing

A city man's car, stolen Sunday from the downtown area, was located Friday near Steubenville stripped of its wheels.

The State Highway Patrol at Wintersville advised city police yesterday afternoon the 1953 auto owned by Ralph Yanni, 2805 St. Clair Ave., was located on Williams Rd., a township highway, about 1.2 miles west of Steubenville.

In addition to the missing wheels, the left front door window had been broken out, the patrol said.

Crocker told hospital authorities he lost control of his auto at 5:40 p. m. and it rolled over twice.

Tri-State law enforcement centers had no report of the mishap.

It was announced that reservations are being taken for the Ft. McIntosh Council's annual recognition dinner to be held Nov. 17, at 6:30 p. m., at the American Legion Hall in Monaca. There will be a potluck dinner.

The next pack committee meeting is Nov. 14 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Doyle of Beaver Ave.

Postal Worker Retires

A familiar figure in the garb of a mailman has retired after more than 38 years' service.

Thomas (Jack) Rice is shown picking up a bundle of mail for delivery Friday as he walked his route for the final time, completing 38 years, 6 months and 28 days.

He has literally carried the mail for many years in the downtown area, serving in the business and Dresden Ave. section during the last few years. He also has served routes in the West End and North Side.

Starting with the department April 1, 1922, as a substitute carrier, Rice has survived the hazards of irate dogs and all types of weather.

But there are additional problems as Rice has learned. While at work one day, he was struck by a car while crossing Broadway and E. 5th St. and was idled for 9 weeks with injuries.

Rice, who resides on Maple Dr., Calcutta, said he's not certain of his retirement plans. But fellow workers at the Post Office gave him a suggestion.

On behalf of the employes, Asst. Postmaster Roland T. Kaufman presented Rice with a new fishing rod, spinning reel, tackle box and several lures in a ceremony yesterday morning.

Rice also was presented with a merit certificate from Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield for faithful service.

Because of his retirement, Newell G. Poling, 226 Thompson Ave., has been appointed a substitute carrier, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said. Poling qualified in a recent Civil Service examination.

Francis Wallace's New Book About Rockne Now At Library

At the peak of the football season it is always fitting to call attention to one of the greats of that sport, and this year is no exception.

Francis Wallace of Bellaire, the official newspaper correspondent for the University of Notre Dame during the 20's, has written an affectionate biography of one of the greatest football coaches who ever lied, "Knute Rockne."

Miss Frances Jones, librarian at the Carnegie Public Library, said the new book shelf also includes three biographies dealing with aspects of the legal profession.

Sir Sidney Smith, a world renowned expert on forensic medicine, recounts many of the cases in which he was able to aid justice in his autobiography, "Mostly Murder;" Morris Ernst, lawyer for the Civil Liberties Union cause and great promoter of literacy, reminisces in "Touch Wood," and Brad Williams tells of the fabulous legal facts of George T. Davis, criminal lawyer, in his 30-year battle against capital punishment. The title of the latter is "Due Punishment."

Two tales of adventure promise compelling reading: Marion Miller, a Los Angeles housewife, paraded as a Communist for several years and now she relates her experiences in "I Was a Spy!" In "Revolt in Paradise" Klut Tantri went to Bali to paint but stayed on to help with the battle for independence. The author combines the talents of a Mata Hari and T. E. Lawrence.

Understanding what makes the human animal tick is a goal which most seek. Ernest Dichter, resident of the Institute for Motivational Research, gives the advertising industry's answer to Vance Packard's "The Hidden Persuaders." A well-known educator and member of the Mormon church, David O. McKay supplies advice and guidance in "Secrets of a Happy Life." J. C. Penney, whose great success story is already widely known, has added a postscript to his autobiography in "View from the Ninth Decade." His conviction is that folks should never retire but instead should just plan a change of activities.

Novels of interest to the adult are another family story, the 32nd by D. E. Stevenson. Its title is "The Musgraves" and its setting is the Cotswold Hills of Western England. The issues of jealousy and competency within the medical profession of Germany make for absorbing reading in a novel by Stefan Oliver, "I Swear and Vow." An enigmatic and beautiful woman with a past provides the foil for the plot of "Sylvia." The author is E. V. Cunningham.

Fiction and fun for teen-ager is also to be found in this week's arrivals:

"Anastia Schultz" is a ridiculous tale about two beatnik girls in college. A 16-year-old boy narrates Jim Kirkwood's "There Must Be a Pony." To supply some laughs there is also a new Dennis the Menace, "Ambassador of Mischief."

Optometrist, 47, Faces 199-Year Term In Slaying

METROPOLIS, Ill. (AP) — Dr. Walter J. Goodpaster, 47, faces a 199-year sentence for murder in the rifle slaying last Christmas day of a woman walking home from a round of taverns.

The Herrin, Ill. optometrist, brother of a White House aide, must serve 66 years before he will be eligible for parole under Illinois law. His attorney was given 30 days to file a motion for a new trial.

A Massac County Circuit jury of 10 men and two women deliberated two hours and 40 minutes to reach the verdict Friday.

Goodpaster, who lost his composure only once in the 11-day trial, remained impassive as the verdict was read. His wife, son and secretary broke into tears.

The victim, Margaret Strunk, 52, mother of 12 children, was making her way home with the man she lived with, Bernard Dobraski Jr., 33, when the shooting occurred near Goodpaster's rural Carterville home.

New Policy Explained

Health League To Utilize TB Test Instead Of X-Ray

The Columbiana County Public Health League is emphasizing an inexpensive tuberculin test as a mass screening medium, and limiting use of the mobile X-ray unit to selected groups.

This is the substance of a league letter to East Liverpool and Salem health commissions, who had asked why the mobile unit was not scheduled this fall in their communities.

Miss Lillian Schroeder, league executive director, replied that the unit is not scheduled in either city.

The letter included the following policy statement of the league Board of Directors:

Find the infected through tuberculin testing.

Limit the use of mobile X-ray unit to (1) adult positive reactors, (2) areas where a high yield can be expected, (3) in selected segments of the population known to be reservoirs of infection.

When a chest X-ray is a condition of employment, consider the responsibility as that of the employe or employer.

Miss Schroeder noted that this shift of emphasis is, in the board's opinion, consistent with the policy statement of the Ohio Department of Health following the Arden House Conference on Tuberculosis last year.

"It is believed," Miss Schroeder wrote, "that the enormous number of routine repetitive chest X-ray examinations of adults can be drastically reduced, and the case detection nevertheless intensified by identifying the infected person with a reliable, inexpensive tuberculin test.

"To that end, we have been working with school executives and public health officers who have requested our assistance," Miss Schroeder continued.

The Health League piloted the Heaf Tuberculin test last May at Beaver Local School and has a student screening program set up that will reach approximately 10,000 pupils by February.

The Columbiana County Medical Society last week endorsed the Heaf as a screening test to replace the Vollmer patch test, providing the test is interpreted by competent personnel such as a doctor or nurse.

Miss Schroeder said that Dr. Walter L. Evans of the State Health Department's Division of Tuberculosis, speaking to county health and school officials last month at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon, emphasized these points of the Ohio policy:

Renewed emphasis on tuberculin testing; select use of the mobile X-ray unit and use of chemotherapy as a public health measure.

X-ray screening is available at Salem Central Clinic through equipment possible by a grant from the Health League and a gift of the L. H. Brush Trust Fund. Miss Schroeder said this provides continuous screening service at a nominal fee of $1.

She also noted that X-ray service of the Tuberculosis Control Clinic at the Courthouse is available on a referral basis.

The function of a voluntary health agency is public education and demonstration of various case-finding and rehabilitation programs, according to Richard Speidel of Hanoverton, league president, who says the "association is filling its obligation."

The program of continuing case finding and care of infected individuals is the responsibility of the official tax-supported agencies, he added.

Car Stolen Here Found With Wheels Missing

A city man's car, stolen Sunday from the downtown area, was located Friday near Steubenville stripped of its wheels.

The State Highway Patrol at Wintersville advised city police yesterday afternoon the 1953 auto owned by Ralph Yanni, 2805 St. Clair Ave., was located on Williams Rd., a township highway, about 1.2 miles west of Steubenville.

In addition to the missing wheels, the left front door window had been broken out, the patrol said.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

I call Bruce my combination angel-terror. Soon he will be four, and he is a fascinating mixture of mischief and goodness.

At bedtime, I always tiptoe into his room to be sure he's covered. Then it is that I am struck by the innocence of his face in sleep. Then it is that I realize how helpless is this small dynamo, who plunges with such boundless energy about our house and yard all day. Then it is that I am struck by the awesomeness of my responsibility.

I realize it is entirely up to me to see that Bruce learns right from wrong, to see that he grows into the sort of man who will be a credit to his family, his community, and his country. I must teach him to keep a steady heart and a level head, to resist the many temptations that will be strewn in his path, to hold honor and truth and integrity high.

When I think of my task, I send a small and special prayer to God to aid me. And I thank God for his Church on earth which, for years to come, will be helping me, again and again, in making my small mischief into a man.

Gov. Ernest Vandiver said Friday night at Richmond, Va., a phone call by Sen. John F. Kennedy to the wife of the Negro intregation leader could affect the presidential campaign in Georgia to some extent.

Robert Kennedy's call was to Judge Oscar Mitchell of DeKalb County to inquire about the right to bail. King later was released on bond pending appeal of his case.

Lt. Gov. Garland T. Byrd criticized the Kennedy brothers for making the calls but said, "I don't think that it will materially change the position of the Democratic party in the state."

But he didn't think that Georgia would fail to go Democratic. "She always has and I believe she will again this year," he told newsmen at a Democratic dinner where he was the featured speaker.

However, Vandiver said Kennedy's call was "unfortunate."

The Democratic presidential candidate phoned Mrs. King Wednesday to express sympathy over the jailing of her husband in connection with a sit-in demonstration and a traffic charge in adjacent DeKalb County.

Robert Kennedy's call was to Judge Oscar Mitchell of DeKalb County to inquire about the right to bail; King later was released on bond pending appeal of his case.

Lt. Gov. Garland T. Byrd criticized the Kennedy brothers for making the calls but said, "I don't think that it will materially change the position of the Democratic party in the state."

DiSalle Attacks Eisenhower At Kennedy Rally

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told a rally for Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee, here Friday night that President Eisenhower has stopped communism "just short of Miami Beach."

He made the apparent reference to the Communist - tinged Castro regime in Cuba in recalling Eisenhower's campaign promises in 1952 and 1956 to check the spread of Communism.

The governor said that when Sen. Kennedy speaks on the same subject he is accused of being too critical of the administration and thereby "unpatriotic."

Dr. Benjamin Spock, renowned child specialist, also spoke. He said he was for Kennedy chiefly because he favors federal aid to education and old-age medical insurance.

He warned his audience not to be frightened by "bogeyman words like socialized medicine." He said the Blue Cross system was once termed socialized medicine.

Woman Exonerated

Paul Hemminger, 7, was hit after he alighted from the bus, which had stopped in front of his home. Police said Mrs. Fitch passed the parked bus. She said her view was obstructed by two cars and a truck which had stopped at the rear of the school bus.

St. Mary's Hands Chester 33-7 Loss In Homecoming Game

Pugh Scores Lone TD For Panthers

A powerful St. Mary's eleven rolled to a 33-7 victory over Chester to put a damper on homecoming activities at Chester's City Park Friday night.

Pretty Miss Saundra Aken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aken of 451 Florida Ave., Chester, was crowned the 1960 homecoming queen but didn't have much to cheer about.

St. Mary's avenged a 13-7 loss to the Panthers from last season.

The visitors from down the Ohio River built up a 33-0 lead over three quarters before Chester broke the shutout with a touchdown in the last period.

St. Mary's quarterback Borley passed for two touchdowns, hitting Bill Wilson with a 46-yard aerial in the second quarter and Dick Wilson with a 28-yard pass in the third period.

Lynch went five yards for St. Mary's first touchdown and then scored on a 69-yard gallop with the kickoff to open the second half. Dye added the other six-pointer for the visitors on a 6-yard sprint.

Halfback Gary Pugh averted the shutout when he raced 8 yards to the end zone in the fourth period. Quarterback John Bickerstaff ran for the conversion.

The defeat marked Chester's fifth in seven games. The Panthers return to action again next Friday entertaining Cameron.

In the statistical department, St. Mary's showed a 12-9 edge on first downs.

Chester didn't threaten throughout the first three periods.

Goal Line Stand Nets Lisbon Win Over Bears

LISBON — An 81-yard march and a goal-line stand in the fourth quarter, netted the Lisbon Blue Devils a 14-6 victory over Leetonia here Friday night.

The victory was Lisbon's third straight after Coach Bud Bucher's team had lost its first five games.

Leetonia drew first blood, scoring early in the second period. A 68-yard pass play from quarterback Paul Conrad to halfback Bob Gullet set up the TD. Joe Gallo climaxed the drive by plunging over from the one-yard line. A placement for the conversion failed.

Lisbon took the kickoff following Leetonia's touchdown and marched 53 yards for the equalizer with Paul Fry plunging over from the one-yard line.

Rick Bowling put the Blue Devils ahead when he ran for the conversion.

Lisbon added the clincher in the fourth quarter when Bowling went in the end zone from 6 yards out.

The game wasn't quite over though as the Blue Devils had to put up a goal line stand late in the fourth quarter. Leetonia drove to the Lisbon one-yard line but missed a first down by inches and the threat ended.

The victory was Lisbon's third in eight games while Leetonia dropped its seventh straight game.

Unbeaten College Football Powers May Be Cut Today

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The dwindling list of unbeaten-untied college football powers could undergo another trimming today. Hardly a week has gone by that some power hasn't bitten the dust.

Who will fall this time?

Well, Iowa, top-ranked outfit in the country in this week's Associated Press ratings, has been staggering along—the Hawkeyes beat Purdue last week 21-14, with the winning margin an 84-yard touchdown run by third stringer Dayton Perry—and go against tough Kansas today in quest of victory No. 6.

The Jayhawks have been placed on probation by the NCAA for recruiting sins and they plan to go all out by way of showing their contempt for the ruling.

Mississippi, No. 2 in the rankings, plays Louisiana State and an emphatic triumph by the Rebs would give them a good talking point to get back to the top of the list.

Defending national champion Syracuse, with 16 victories in a row, has a problem in Pitt. The Panthers are 2-2-2, but reports from their lair indicate they can't wait to tear Syracuse apart.

Navy, No. 4, plays Notre Dame, which shows a four-game losing streak. Joe Bellino and Co. are the heavy favorites, especially now that they have been mentioned as Rose Bowl candidates.

Missouri, No. 5, and the current favorite to win the Big Eight championship, battles Nebraska in a league game. The Cornhuskers will present a stern test. They've beaten Texas and Army.

Minnesota, No. 6, appears to have an easy assignment against much-battered Kansas State while Baylor, No. 7, tangles with Texas Christian in a Southwest Conference game.

The only other major undefeated-untied teams in the country are New Mexico State (6-0) which plays Arizona State, Yale (5-0), which has a date with Dartmouth and Rutgers (5-0), which tangles with Villanova.

In the only game between two members of the top 10, Ohio State (4-1), No. 8, meets Michigan State (3-1-1) No. 10 in a Big Ten game. This will be a battle for survival because the loser probably will be eliminated from the race.

Washington, No. 9, plays Oregon, after coming through with a hairbreath triumph over Oregon State last week. Oregon has been beaten only once.

Regional TV games include Ohio State-Michigan State, Mississippi-Louisiana State and California-Oregon State.

Ageless Archie Heavy Favorite In Rome Fight

ROME, Italy (AP) — Ageless Archie Moore is almost a unanimous choice to beat Italian light-heavyweight champion Giulio Rinaldi in their 10-round non-title fight tonight.

Italian spors writers said the 44—or is it 47—year-old world champion has too much ring guile and too much experience for the slugging 25-year-old Italian.

Archie's title was lifted by the National Boxing Association of the United States this week for failure to defend his crown within a specified time. But he still is the champion in the eyes of the New York Athletic Commission and other states where the NBA is not recognized.

A victory for the Italian probably would get him a quick chance at the European cruiserweight title for which he is a challenger.

Almost all of the 13,880 tickets for seats in the Olympic Sports Palace had been sold by Friday night.

Grid Team Works Out In 'Heart' Of Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undismayed as rush hour traffic blocked South Carolina from a scheduled football workout at Georgetown University, Coach Warren Giese decided to drill his squad in the nearest place available.

Giese took his charges across the street from their hotel Friday and drilled them in DuPont Circle—a combination park and traffic circle in the heart of Washington.

The workout took place at the peak of rush-hour so hundreds of drivers and pedestrians got a preview of the team that opposes Maryland today.

Cumberland Absorbs 20-8 Grid Setback

MOUNT PLEASANT — Halfback Jim Morris scored two touchdowns to lead Mount Pleasant High to a 20-8 victory over invading New Cumberland Friday night.

Morris scored in the first period on an 8-yard crash up the middle and in the second on a three-yard buck. A pass play covering 32 yards from quarterback Earle to Eddie Peltz accounted for the Mounties' third touchdown.

Coach John Kuzio's New Cumberland eleven drove for a second period touchdown on a 5-yard pass from sophomore quarterback Allen Katzenmeyer to Tom Hale. Katzenmeyer flipped a pass to Kenny Freshwater for the conversion.

The defeat left the Blue Raiders with a 2-6 record. New Cumberland's regular quarterback, Charles Miller, is sidelined with a broken wrist. Center Ed Moore also is shelved.

World's Richest Race Slated For Track In Jersey

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — The mile and a sixteenth equinine gold rush known as the Garden State comes off today with Louis E. Wolfson's Harbor View Farm entry of Roving Minstrel and Garwol favored to cash the winning chips.

Fifteen of the nation's finest 2-year-olds are slated to go in the eighth running of the world's richest race before an expected 45,000 at Garden State Park.

If all 15 start, the bag of gold at the finish line will be a gross $287,970. The winning owner would tote home $172,782. Second, third and fourth-place finishers, could nurse their disappointment with $57,594, $28,797 and $14,398 respectively.

Roving Minstrel and Garwol got all the best of it in the draw for post position. The Harbor View entry pulled No. 4 and 6, while their chief rival, W. Logan Grier Jr's Itsa Great Day drew No. 15, the extreme outside post. Ada L. Rice's Try Cash and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Herff's Intensive, other likely contenders, will come out of No. 9 and 14 in the starting gate.

Warren Edges Massillon With Place Kick, 19 To 18

WARREN, OHIO — Warren was still rocking today with cries of "We did it!" after the Harding High School eleven scored the upset of the year in Ohio scholastic football circles by edging Massillon, 19-18, here Friday night.

A place kick by Fred Coldwell with only 1:23 to go gave Warren the victory and snapped the Tigers' 20-game winning streak.

The crowd swarmed on the field after the game and refused to leave, staging a wild demonstration.

Coach Leo Strang of Massillon has lost only two games in his three seasons there and both were at the hands of Harding.

It was Warren's fourth straight victory.

Warren staged an uphill battle and came back three times to finally win.

Massillon scored first when Charlie Harris intercepted a pass on his own two-yard line and raced 98 yards. The play came after Harding had battered its way for 34 yards after Mel Getsay intercepted a pass.

Warren came back after recovering a fumble on Massillon's 29 early in the second period. Jackson ended the march with a one-yard plunge.

Massillon rolled back, taking advantage of times out and scored with only 30 seconds to go as John Larson passed 26 yards to Larry Ehmer.

Warren tied things at 12 early in the third period after recovering a Massillon fumble on its own 40.

Two gambles on fourth down paid off and Fred Coldwell raced 30 yards for the touchdown.

Early in the fourth period Warren again gambled on a fourth-down play and Massillon took over on Warren's 45.

Massillon then marched down the field and Art Hastings went over from the five-yard line at 7:10.

Warren took the next kickoff, but Massillon held and Warren was forced to punt. A roughing-the-kicker penalty, however, enabled Warren to keep the ball. Coldwell drove 20 yards on a pitchout from Bart Wilson to score. Then Coldwell booted the point.

Massillon opened up, but Mel Getsay interecepted a pass with 23 seconds to go.

Warren outgained Massillon, 222 yards to 145, but Massillon had an 11-10 edge in first downs. Warren did not complete a pass. Massillon gained 48 yards in the air in completing three of nine passes. The game was witnessed by the biggest crowd in Warren football history, more than 13,000.

Kickoff—8 p. m.

Although comparative scores give the Potters a slight edge, tonight's East Liverpool-Steubenville Central battle looms more and more as a tossup as game time nears.

The kickoff is at 8 at Steubenville Harding Stadium, located on Route 22.

The teams have played two common foes. Steubenville, 4-2 for the season, was defeated by Bellaire St. John's, 8-6, in a game that Crusaders fans still can't understand. And Struthers was laced by Central 38-14.

The Potters had a real battle with St. John's but managed a 20-8 victory. East Liverpool blanked Struhers, 28-0.

Both East Liverpool and Central have well-tested scoring weapons. Steubenville will depend almost 100 per cent on speed, chiefly in halfbacks Jerry France, a 145-pounder, and Tom Erosheivich, 170.

Although, Sam Forsnaglio, a second string quarterback may start tonight's game, Coach John Baroni said he would have his regular quarterback Paul Kenny in the lineup early.

Kenny was injured three games ago. He is rated a very fast runner.

Defensively the Stubbers are solid, especially against an air attack. They whipped Cincinnati Elder last week just by stopping its passing game.

However, in Kenny Cunningham, the Central eleven will be facing one of the top high school passers in Ohio.

Cunningham has no favorite when it comes to receivers. It may be Joe Thompson, John Goodballet, Tim Archer or Mike Geon. Occasionally he throws to Allan Douglas or Tom Kraft.

Probably the Cunningham - to-Thompson combination has clicked for more yardage than the others.

Coach Lou Venditti said the Potter lineup will remain the same and that the team is in good physical condition.

While East Liverpool will be making only three changes on defense, Central substitutes 11 new boys to keep the offensive crew fresh.

East Liverpool nipped Steubenville last season, 6-2, in the mud.

Giants Picked To Hold Lead

By The Associated Press

The record books show there is no such hing as a sure winner in the National Football League. But if form holds true for Sunday's six games, the New York Giants will still be unbeaten at the top of the Eastern Conference and the Green Bay Packers and Chicago Bears will be tied for the Western Conference lead.

The Giants (3-0-1) are favored to take the St. Louis Cardinals (2-3) by 10 points at Yankee Stadium. Earlier in the season at St. Louis, the Giants thumped the Cards 35-14.

Green Bay (3-1) and Chicago (3-1-1) are both touchdown favorites. The Packers will be at Pittsburgh for a game with the ever-tough Steelers (2-2-1) and the Bears at San Francisco against the 49ers (2-3).

Baltimore's defending champions, battling to get back into the Western Conference lead, after losing two of their five games, are favored by 14 points over the winless Cowboys at Dallas.

The Philadelphia Eagles (4-1) second in the Eastern Division, are idle. Thus the Cleveland Browns (3-1) can move into a tie for runner-up honors back of the Giants by beating the Redskins (1-1-2) at Washington. The Browns are 10-point favorites.

The Los Angeles Rams (0-4-1) are at home to Detroit (1-3) in the league's other game. The Rams are favored by a touchdown.

Roommates Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette accounted for 40 victories for the Braves last season. Their earned run marks were 3.46 and 3.36, respectively.

St. Mary's Hands Chester 33-7 Loss In Homecoming Game

Pugh Scores Lone TD For Panthers

A powerful St. Mary's eleven rolled to a 33-7 victory over Chester to put a damper on homecoming activities at Chester's City Park Friday night.

Pretty Miss Saundra Aken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aken of 451 Florida Ave., Chester, was crowned the 1960 homecoming queen but didn't have much to cheer about.

St. Mary's avenged a 13-7 loss to the Panthers from last season.

The visitors from down the Ohio River built up a 33-0 lead over three quarters before Chester broke the shutout with a touchdown in the last period.

St. Mary's quarterback Borley passed for two touchdowns, hitting Bill Wilson with a 46-yard aerial in the second quarter and Dick Wilson with a 28-yard pass in the third period.

Lynch went five yards for St. Mary's first touchdown and then scored on a 69-yard gallop with the kickoff to open the second half. Dye added the other six-pointer for the visitors on a 6-yard sprint.

Halfback Gary Pugh averted the shutout when he raced 8 yards to the end zone in the fourth period. Quarterback John Bickerstaff ran for the conversion.

The defeat marked Chester's fifth in seven games. The Panthers return to action again next Friday entertaining Cameron.

In the statistical department, St. Mary's showed a 12-9 edge on first downs.

Chester didn't threaten throughout the first three periods.

Goal Line Stand Nets Lisbon Win Over Bears

LISBON — An 81-yard march and a goal-line stand in the fourth quarter, netted the Lisbon Blue Devils a 14-6 victory over Leetonia here Friday night.

The victory was Lisbon's third straight after Coach Bud Bucher's team had lost its first five games.

Leetonia drew first blood, scoring early in the second period. A 68-yard pass play from quarterback Paul Conrad to halfback Bob Gullet set up the TD. Joe Gallo climaxed the drive by plunging over from the one-yard line. A placement for the conversion failed.

Lisbon took the kickoff following Leetonia's touchdown and marched 53 yards for the equalizer with Paul Fry plunging over from the one-yard line.

Rick Bowling put the Blue Devils ahead when he ran for the conversion.

Lisbon added the clincher in the fourth quarter when Bowling went in the end zone from 6 yards out.

The game wasn't quite over though as the Blue Devils had to put up a goal line stand late in the fourth quarter. Leetonia drove to the Lisbon one-yard line but missed a first down by inches and the threat ended.

The victory was Lisbon's third in eight games while Leetonia dropped its seventh straight game.

Unbeaten College Football Powers May Be Cut Today

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The dwindling list of unbeaten-untied college football powers could undergo another trimming today. Hardly a week has gone by that some power hasn't bitten the dust.

Who will fall this time?

Well, Iowa, top-ranked outfit in the country in this week's Associated Press ratings, has been staggering along—the Hawkeyes beat Purdue last week 21-14, with the winning margin an 86-yard touchdown run by third stringer Dayton Perry—and go against tough Kansas today in quest of victory No. 6.

The Jayhawks have been placed on probation by the NCAA for recruiting sins and they plan to go all out by way of showing their contempt for the ruling.

Mississippi, No. 2 in the rankings, plays Louisiana State and an emphatic triumph by the Rebs would give them a good talking point to get back to the top of the list.

Defending national champion Syracuse, with 16 victories in a row, has a problem in Pitt. The Panthers are 2-2-2, but reports from their lair indicate they can't wait to tear Syracuse apart.

Navy, No. 4, plays Notre Dame, which shows a four-game losing streak. Joe Bellino and Co. are the heavy favorites, especially now that they have been mentioned as Rose Bowl candidates.

Missouri, No. 5, and the current favorite to win the Big Eight championship, battles Nebraska in a league game. The Cornhuskers will present a stern test. They've beaten Texas and Army.

Minnesota, No. 6, appears to have an easy assignment against much-battered Kansas State while Baylor, No. 7, tangles with Texas Christian in a Southwest Conference game.

The only other major undefeated-untied teams in the country are New Mexico State (6-0) which plays Arizona State, Yale (5-0), which has a date with Dartmouth and Rutgers (5-0), which tangles with Villanova.

In the only game between two members of the top 10, Ohio State (4-1), No. 8, meets Michigan State (3-1-1) No. 10 in a Big Ten game. This will be a battle for survival because the loser probably will be eliminated from the race.

Washington, No. 9, plays Oregon, after coming through with a hairbreath triumph over Oregon State last week. Oregon has been beaten only once.

Regional TV games include Ohio State-Michigan State, Mississippi-Louisiana State and California-Oregon State.

Ageless Archie Heavy Favorite In Rome Fight

ROME, Italy (AP) — Ageless Archie Moore is almost a unanimous choice to beat Italian Light-heavyweight champion Giulio Rinaldi in their 10-round non-title fight tonight.

Italian sports writers said the 44-or is a 45-year-old world champion has too much ring guile and too much experience for the slugging 28-year-old Italian.

Archie's title was lifted by the National Boxing Association of the United States this week for failure to defend his crown within a specified time. But he still is the champion in the eyes of the New York Athletic Commission and other states where the NBA is not recognized.

A victory for the Italian probably would get him a quick chance at the European cruiserweight title for which he is a challenger.

Almost all of the 13,000 tickets for seats in the Olympic Sports Palace had been sold by Friday night.

Grid Team Works Out In 'Heart' Of Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undismayed as rush hour traffic blocked South Carolina from a scheduled football workout at Georgetown University, Coach Warren Giese decided to drill his squad in the nearest place available.

Giese took his charges across the street from their hotel Friday and drilled them in DuPont Circle—a combination park and traffic circle in the heart of Washington.

The workout took place at the peak of rush-hour as hundreds of drivers and pedestrians got a preview of the team that opposes Maryland today.

Cumberland Absorbs 20-8 Grid Setback

MOUNT PLEASANT — Halfback Jim Morris scored two touchdowns to lead Mount Pleasant High to a 20-8 victory over invading New Cumberland Friday night.

Morris scored in the first period on an 8-yard crash up the middle and in the second on a three-yard buck. A pass play covering 32 yards from quarterback Earle to Eddie Peltz accounted for the Mounties' third touchdown.

Coach John Kuzio's New Cumberland eleven drove for a second period touchdown on a 3-yard pass from sophomore quarterback Allen Katzenmeyer to Tom Hale. Katzenmeyer flipped a pass to Kenny Freshwater for the conversion.

The defeat left the Blue Raiders with a 2-6 record. New Cumberland's regular quarterback, Charles Miller, is sidelined with a broken wrist. Center Ed Moore also is shelved.

World's Richest Race Slated For Track In Jersey

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — The mile and a sixteenth equinine gold rush known as the Garden State names off today with Louis E. Wellons's Harbor View Farm entry of Roving Minstrel and Garvel favored to cash the winning chips.

Fifteen of the nation's finest 3-year-olds are slated to go in the eighth running of the world's richest race before an expected 65,000 at Garden State Park.

If all 15 start, the bag of gold at the finish line will be a gross $307,970. The winning owner would tote home $172,782. Second, third and fourth-place finishers could nurse their disappointment with $57,594, $28,797 and $14,399 respectively.

Roving Minstrel and Garvel got a7. No best of it in the draw for post position. The Harbor View entry pulled No. 4 and 6, while their chief rival, W. Logan Grier Jr's Itas Great Day drew No. 13, the extreme outside post. Ada L. Rice's Try Cash and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hertt's Intensive, other likely contenders, will come out of No. 9 and 14 in the starting gate.

TOKYO (AP)—An 8-run uprising in the fourth inning sparked the Japan baseball All-Stars to a 10-7 victory over the San Francisco Giants today.

Warren Edges Massillon With Place Kick, 19 To 18

WARREN, OHIO — Warren was still rocking today with cries of "We did it!" after the Harding High School eleven scored the upset of the year in Ohio scholastic football circles by edging Massillon, 19-18, here Friday night.

A place kick by Fred Coldwell with only 1:23 to go gave Warren the victory and snapped the Tigers' 20-game winning streak.

The crowd swarmed on the field after the game and refused to leave, staging a wild demonstration.

Coach Lee Strang of Massillon has lost only two games in his three seasons there and both were at the hands of Harding.

It was Warren's fourth straight victory.

Warren staged an uphill battle and came back three times to finally win.

Massillon scored first when Charlie Harris intercepted a pass on his own two-yard line and raced 98 yards. The play came after Harding had battered its way for 94 yards after Mel Getsay intercepted a pass.

Warren came back after recovering a fumble on Massillon's 29 early in the second period. Jackson ended the march with a one-yard plunge.

Massillon rolled back, taking advantage of times out and scored with only 30 seconds to go as John Larson passed 26 yards to Larry Elgner.

Warren tied things at 12 early in the third period after recovering a Massillon fumble on its own 40.

Two gambles on fourth down paid off and Fred Coldwell raced 20 yards for the touchdown.

Early in the fourth period Warren again gambled on a fourth-down play and Massillon took over on Warren's 45.

Massillon then marched down the field and Art Hastings went over from the five-yard line at 7:10.

Warren took the next kickoff, but Massillon held and Warren was forced to punt. A roughing-the-kicker penalty, however, enabled Warren to keep the ball. Coldwell drove 20 yards on a pitchout from Bart Wilson to score. Then Coldwell booted the point.

Massillon opened up, but Mel Getsay intercepted a pass with 23 seconds to go.

Warren outgained Massillon, 222 yards to 145, but Massillon had an 11-10 edge in first downs. Warren did not complete a pass. Massillon gained 68 yards in the air in completing three of nine passes. The game was witnessed by the biggest crowd in Warren football history, more than 12,000.

Place—Harding Stadium, Steubenville.
Kickoff—8 p. m.

Although comparative scores give the Potters a slight edge, tonight's East Liverpool-Steubenville Central battle looms more and more as a tossup as game time nears.

The kickoff is at 8 at Steubenville Harding Stadium, located on Route 22.

The teams have played two common foes. Steubenville, 4-2 for the season, was defeated by Bellaire St. John's, 8-6, in a game that Crusaders fans still can't understand. And Struthers was laced by Central 28-14.

The Potters had a real battle with St. John's but managed a 20-6 victory. East Liverpool blanked Struthers, 28-0.

Both East Liverpool and Central have well-tested scoring weapons. Steubenville will depend almost 100 per cent on speed, chiefly in halfbacks Jerry France, a 145-pounder, and Tom Eroshevich, 170.

Although Sam Fornsaglio, a second string quarterback may start tonight's game, Coach John Baresi said he would have his regular quarterback Paul Kenny in the lineup early.

Kenny was injured three games ago. He is rated a very fast runner.

Defensively the Stubbers are solid, especially against an air attack. They whipped Cincinnati Elder last week just by stopping its passing game.

However, in Kenny Cunningham, the Central eleven will be facing one of the top high school passers in Ohio.

Cunningham has no favorite when it comes to receivers. It may be Joe Thompson, John Goodballet, Tim Archer or Mike Geon. Occasionally he throws to Allan Douglas or Tom Kraft.

Probably the Cunningham - to-Thompson combination has clicked for more yardage than the others.

Coach Lou Venditti said the Potter lineup will remain the same and that the team is in good physical condition.

While East Liverpool will be making only three changes on defense, Central substitutes 11 new boys to keep the offensive crew fresh.

East Liverpool nipped Steubenville last season, 6-2, in the mud.

Giants Picked To Hold Lead

By The Associated Press

The record books show there is no such hing as a sure winner in the National Football League. But if form holds true for Sunday's six games, the New York Giants will still be unbeaten at the top of the Eastern Conference and the Green Bay Packers and Chicago Bears will be tied for the Western Conference lead.

The Giants (3-0-1) are favored to take the St. Louis Cardinals (2-3) by 10 points at Yankee Stadium. Earlier in the season at St. Louis, the Giants thumped the Cards 35-14.

Green Bay (3-1) and Chicago (3-1-1) are both touchdown favorites. The Packers will be at Pittsburgh for a game with the ever-tough Steelers (2-2-1) and the Bears at San Francisco against the 49ers (2-3).

Baltimore's defending champions, battling to get back into the Western Conference lead, after losing two of their five games, are favored by 14 points over the winless Cowboys at Dallas.

The Philadelphia Eagles (4-1) second in the Eastern Division, are idle. Thus the Cleveland Browns (3-1) can move into a tie for runner-up honors back of the Giants by beating the Redskins (1-1-2) at Washington. The Browns are 10-point favorites.

The Los Angeles Rams (0-4-1) are at home to Detroit (1-3) in the league's other game. The Rams are favored by a touchdown.

Roommates Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette accounted for 40 victories for the Braves last season. Their earned run marks were 3.66 and 3.36, respectively.

AFL Western Race Tightens

By The Associated Press

There's one thing sure to happen in the American Football League Sunday.

The Los Angeles Chargers and the Oakland Raiders will be rooting for the Dallas Texans to upset the Denver Broncos at Denver. In that event the Western Division race would be turned into a four-way scramble with Denver and Los Angeles tied for first 4-3 and Oakland and Dallas right behind with 4-4 and 3-4.

The position of the first-place Houston Oilers (5-1) in the Eastern Division is not threatened in their Sunday clash with the third-place Buffalo Bills (2-4) at Buffalo.

Los Angeles and Oakland moved into their contending positions Friday night with victories over the Boston Patriots and New York Titans. Los Angeles had an easy time but Oakland had to come from behind three times to nip New York 28-27.

Midland Defeated In 33-To-13 Fray

NEW BRIGHTON — Rolling to a 20-6 halftime lead, New Brighton High went on to record a 33-13 triumph over Midland High's Leopards here Friday night.

New Brighton struck quickly for a touchdown on a 35-yard pass play from quarterback Dave Harris to Jay Campbell with only four minutes gone in the first quarter, then scored again after a Midland fumble.

The Leopards scored once before halftime on a drive which started on their own 26. Four pass completions by Steve Trbovich moved the ball to the New Brighton 2, and the Midland quarterback crashed over to cut the lead to 20-6 at halftime. Thompson Faces Ortega Tonight In Bout On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Federico Thompson, an Argentine by way of Panama, meets Gaspar Ortega, an Indian from Mexico, in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight.

At stake for the Argentine is a title fight with Cuba's Benny (Kid) Paret, the world welterweight champion, at the Garden, Dec. 10.

Thompson, No. 2 contender and unbeaten in his last 26 fights is a 2-1 favorite.

It's a big risk for the 32-year-old Argentine. If he should lose decisively it will cost him the Paret fight, which he has all wrapped up.

So why take the chance, especially against a hot fighter who has won six straight?

The $6,000 purse and a fine opportunity to sharpen up for the title scrap, says Thompson.

Former Pittsburgh Pirate Managers Bill McKechnie, Donie Bush, Pie Traynor, Fred Haney and Bobby Bragan took in the World Series.

Brown Holds Boxing Title On Decision

By JIM BACON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Joe Brown today holds the record for successful lightweight title defenses — his ninth — after a fun-filled unanimous win over Cisco Andrade.

Brown, who spent almost as much time laughing as punching Friday night, toyed with Andrade to score a lopsided decision.

Referee Lee Grossman scored the fight 12-3, judge Tommy Hart 14-1 and judge George Latka 13-3. The champ from Houston weighed 134½ and Andrade of suburban Compton 133½.

Andrade, 30, accused Brown of loafing and running backwards. The 34-year-old champ commented: "I'm an old man. That's why I was trying to rest in the middle rounds. I wasn't playing around. But he didn't open up the way I expected him to."

Brown, sidestepping and connecting with good lefts whenever he felt like it, made the 15-round title go more like a training camp sparring session.

Cisco got under Brown's lengthier reach in the eighth and landed what looked like the hardest punch of the fight—a corking right to the champion's jaw. It hurt Brown.

The champion said he wants to go after title defense No. 10 before the end of the year—against either Eddie Perkins or Len Matthews. A telegram from Perkins, challenging the winner, was read from ringside.

The win broke a record of successful title defenses in the lightweight division which Brown had shared with the old-time great, Benny Leonard.

The northernmost golf and country club in the world is situated in Fairbanks, Alaska.

AFL Western Race Tightens

By The Associated Press

There's one thing sure to happen in the American Football League Sunday.

The Los Angeles Chargers and the Oakland Raiders will be rooting for the Dallas Texans to upset the Denver Broncos at Denver. In that event the Western Division race would be turned into a four-way scramble with Denver and Los Angeles tied for first 4-3 and Oakland and Dallas right behind with 4-4 and 3-4.

The position of the first-place Houston Oilers (5-1) in the Eastern Division is not threatened in their Sunday clash with the third-place Buffalo Bills (2-4) at Buffalo.

Los Angeles and Oakland moved into their contending positions Friday night with victories over the Boston Patriots and New York Titans. Los Angeles had an easy time but Oakland had to come from behind three times to nip New York 28-27.

This leaves East Palestine and Poland with four victories and one tie each.

East Palestine's touchdown came on a 30-yard pass play from Jack Istnick to end Mike Lemley.

Held scoreless for three quarters, Poland bounced back to score with only two and a half minutes remaining in the game.

A 40-yard pass play from quarterback Bob Ludt to halfback Bill Zimmer gave Poland the tie. East Palestine smothered Poland's try for the extra points.

Palestine threatened in the last minute by marching to the 10-yard line but a staunch defense by the Poland line pushed the Bulldogs back to the 25-yard line as the game ended.

Both teams have two games remaining in the Tri - County circuit. East Palestine's remaining games are away at Louisville next Friday and Columbiana on Nov. 11.

Midland Defeated In 33-To-13 Fray

NEW BRIGHTON — Rolling to a 20-6 halftime lead, New Brighton High went on to record a 33-13 triumph over Midland High's Leopards here Friday night.

New Brighton struck quickly for a touchdown on a 35-yard pass play from quarterback Dave Harris to Jay Campbell with only four minutes gone in the first quarter, then scored again after a Midland fumble.

New Brighton struck for a third period TD on Allison's 4 yard plunge. Dan D'Alesio of Midland blocked Campbell's attempted kick for the conversion.

Brown Holds Boxing Title On Decision

By JIM BACON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Joe Brown today holds the record for successful lightweight title defenses — his ninth — after a fun-filled unanimous win over Cisco Andrade.

Brown, who spent almost as much time laughing as punching Friday night, toyed with Andrade to score a lopsided decision.

Referee Lee Grossman scored the fight 12-3, judge Tommy Hart 14-1 and judge George Latka 13-3. The champ from Houston weighed 134½ and Andrade of suburban Compton 133½.

Andrade, 30, accused Brown of loafing and running backwards. The 34-year-old champ commented: "I'm an old man. That's why I was trying to rest in the middle rounds. I wasn't playing around. But he didn't open up the way I expected him to."

Brown, sidestepping and connecting with good lefts whenever he felt like it, made the 15-round title go more like a training camp sparring session.

Cisco got under Brown's lengthier reach in the eighth and landed what looked like the hardest punch of the fight—a corking right to the champion's jaw. It hurt Brown.

The champion said he wants to go after title defense No. 10 before the end of the year—against either Eddie Perkins or Len Matthews. A telegram from Perkins, challenging the winner, was read from ringside.

The win broke a record of successful title defenses in the lightweight division which Brown had shared with the old-time great, Benny Leonard.

The northernmost golf and country club in the world is situated in Fairbanks, Alaska.

Thompson Faces Ortega Tonight In Bout On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Federico Thompson, an Argentine by way of Panama, meets Gaspar Ortega, an Indian from Mexico, in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden tonight.

At stake for the Argentine is a title fight with Cuba's Benny (Kid) Paret, the world welterweight champion, at the Garden, Dec. 16.

Thompson, No. 2 contender and unbeaten in his last 26 fights is a 2-1 favorite.

It's a big risk for the 32-year-old Argentine. If he should lose decisively it will cost him the Paret fight, which he has all wrapped up.

So why take the chance, especially against a hot fighter who has won six straight?

The $6,000 purse and a fine opportunity to sharpen up for the title scrap, says Thompson.

Former Pittsburgh Pirate Managers Bill McKechnie, Donie Bush, Pie Traynor, Fred Haney and Bobby Bragan took in the World Series.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

How To Stop Making Mistakes

Dale Carnegie once told me that he had a notion to write a book entitled, "Dumb Things I Have Done—By Dale Carnegie." I told Dale that if I were to write on dumb things done by Norman Vincent Peale a whole series of books would be required. No doubt all of us at one time or another are embarrassed by mistakes we make. Mayor LaGuardia once ruefully said, "When I make a mistake it's a beaut." For my own part I have often had to ask myself, "Won't I ever really learn? Why, after all my experience, do I go on doing stupid things?"

WHAT IS this error tendency that persistently clings to our minds and occasionally breaks out causing us to do and say unwise and foolish things? In one sense, the big isue in the lives of all of us is the competition between error and truth.

When error is in the saddle and rides us, we do dumb things and spend a lot of time regretting them. When truth is in control, we stay on the beam and handle life's problems masterfully.

Truth versus error — that is the decisive issue. How then can one increase his mental truth content and reduce the element of error in his mind?

One way is to look to extra-wise friends or loved ones and, even more importantly, cultivate the ability to listen to their wisdom. Some people are just naturally wise — or experience and serious thinking have made them so. Take time to talk things out with them before you rush into anything. This will prevent much finger burning and help you avoid many errors.

I must confess that I have done the best when I first took time to talk and listen to wise and thoughtful friends. When I have not consulted them, or have plunged ahead on my own, I have found myself in plenty of hot water.

THINK THINGS out with someone whose judgment you know to be sound. The best formula is to think and talk and delay and pray. That policy is the best insurance against mistakes.

This relationship with wise people is so valuable that their minds may actually continue to be available to you even after their death. Their mental slant and thinking process through long association seems to make a lasting impression upon your own consciousness, so that even though departed, their wise counsel is still yours.

Some time ago I was under great stress in trying to think through a complicated situation. I was riding in our car, my wife driving, and neither of us had said a word for a number of miles, being both lost in thought. Suddenly I felt a strong desire to talk with my father, dead since 1955. I said to my wife, "Ruth, I wish I could talk this over with Dad. He was one of the wisest men I ever knew."

After a long pause she finally said, "Actually, don't we know what he would say and how he would think about this problem?" We then discussed what his attitude would be and we each had an unmistakable impression of the advice he would have given. We decided to do as we believed he would advise. And as a result a very difficult matter began to show improvement.

IF THIS kind of experience is possible on the human level, how very much more powerful it can be on the spiritual level. We actually have available to us the mind of God as we struggle with life's difficult problems. In the Bible we read, "Thou shalt guide me with Thy counsel."

To know the mind of God it is necessary to think according to God's thought pattern. And this is done by saturating the mind with the great thoughts of the Bible. The sum total of these thoughts ultimately will color your mind, creating in you a harmony with God through which divine guidance can come to you on specific problems. Those who really "go to school" to the Bible become finally people of more than human wisdom.

In addition to this, I have noticed that individuals who talk over their problems in prayer and sincerely seek God's guidance gain insights that really change things. So we do not need to accept our ineptness or continue making so many mistakes. As we develop inward truth, the error tendency will lessen.

Confident Living

By Norman Vincent Peale

How To Stop Making Mistakes

Dale Carnegie once told me that he had a notion to write a book entitled, "Dumb Things I Have Done—By Dale Carnegie." I told Dale that if I were to write on dumb things done by Norman Vincent Peale a whole series of books would be required. No doubt all of us at one time or another are embarrassed by mistakes we make. Mayor LaGuardia once ruefully said, "When I make a mistake it's a beaut." For my own part I have often had to ask myself, "Won't I ever really learn? Why, after all my experience, do I go on doing stupid things?"

WHAT IS this error tendency that persistently clings to our minds and occasionally breaks out causing us to do and say unwise and foolish things? In one sense, the big isue in the lives of all of us is the competition between error and truth.

When error is in the saddle and rides us, we do dumb things and spend a lot of time regretting them. When truth is in control, we stay on the beam and handle life's problems masterfully.

Truth versus error — that is the decisive issue. How then can one increase his mental truth content and reduce the element of error in his mind?

One way is to look to extra-wise friends or loved ones and, even more importantly, cultivate the ability to listen to their wisdom. Some people are just naturally wise — or experience and serious thinking have made them so. Take time to talk things out with them before you rush into anything. This will prevent much finger burning and help you avoid many errors.

I must confess that I have done the best when I first took time to talk and listen to wise and thoughtful friends. When I have not consulted them, or have plunged ahead on my own, I have found myself in plenty of hot water.

THINK THINGS out with someone whose judgment you know to be sound. The best formula is to think and talk and delay and pray. That policy is the best insurance against mistakes.

This relationship with wise people is so valuable that their minds may actually continue to be available to you even after their death. Their mental slant and thinking process through long association seems to make a lasting impression upon your own consciousness, so that even though departed, their wise counsel is still yours.

Some time ago I was under great stress in trying to think through a complicated situation. I was riding in our car, my wife driving, and neither of us had said a word for a number of miles, being both lost in thought. Suddenly I felt a strong desire to talk with my father, dead since 1955. I said to my wife, "Ruth, I wish I could talk this over with Dad. He was one of the wisest men I ever knew."

After a long pause she finally said, "Actually, don't we know what he would say and how he would think about this problem?" We then discussed what his attitude would be and we each had an unmistakable impression of the advice he would have given. We decided to do as we believed he would advise. And as a result a very difficult matter began to show improvement.

—:—

IF THIS kind of experience is possible on the human level, how very much more powerful it can be on the spiritual level. We actually have available to us the mind of God as we struggle with life's difficult problems. In the Bible we read, "Thou shalt guide me with Thy counsel."

Warren Woman Elected Head Of Teachers Group

CLEVELAND (AP)—The North Eastern Ohio Teachers Association has its first woman president in seven years.

She is Miss Elvira Wright of Warren, who was elected Friday at the 25,000-member organization's one-day convention here. She succeeds Dr. Roger M. Shaw, professor of education at Kent State University.

The association went on record in a resolution as favoring the use of local taxes to help pay for proposed junior colleges in Ohio.

The resolution stressed local control through boards, somewhat along the lines of present school boards, and suggested that both building and operation of the junior colleges be shared by state funds, local taxation and student fees.

In another resolution, the NEOTA asked the state to stiffen requirements for school nurses by making a degree as a professional registered nurse mandatory. The present law says only that the nurse must be "trained."

3 Convicted Of Bribery In Highway Case

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Three top officials of the Carpenters Union were convicted Friday night of bribing an Indiana highway official in quick-profit right-of-way deals, climaxing a highway scandal case that dated back nearly three years.

Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the 850,000-member international union; O. William Blaier, vice president, and Frank M. Chapman, treasurer, displayed no emotion as Criminal Court Judge M. Walter Bell read the verdict.

Bell ordered a presentence investigation and set Nov. 28 for sentencing. The conviction carries a 2-14-year prison sentence and a maximum fine of $15,000 each.

The jury of seven men and five women deliberated less than three hours before finding all three guilty of bribing and conspiracy to bribe Harry A. Doggett of Greensburg, former right-of-way purchasing director for the Indiana Highway Department.

The three were charged with giving Doggett a $15,000 check for advance information about proposed routes for highways in Wayne and Lake counties. The prosecution contended they bought land along the proposed routes then sold it to the state, making $81,000 profit.

John A. Royse, defense attorney for Blaier and Hutcheson, announced he would ask for a new trial. John A. O'Hara, attorney for Chapman, said he would request a suspended sentence for his client. He said Chapman was suffering from cancer, heart trouble and diabetes and would undergo surgery in Seattle, Wash., his hometown, next week.

The union officials were indicted Feb. 18, 1958, by a Marion County (Indianapolis) grand jury after a Lake County grand jury failed to return indictments on similar charges. After the Lake County investigation, the alleged profits were repaid to the state by the defendants.

The Carpenters officials' trial was delayed nearly thre eyears by a series of legal maneuvers.

3 Convicted Of Bribery In Highway Case

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Three top officials of the Carpenters Union were convicted Friday night of bribing an Indiana highway official in quick-profit right-of-way deals, climaxing a highway scandal case that dated back nearly three years.

Maurice A. Hutcheson, president of the 850,000-member international union; O. William Blaier, vice president, and Frank M. Chapman, treasurer, displayed no emotion as Criminal Court Judge M. Walter Bell read the verdict.

Bell ordered a presentence investigation and set Nov. 28 for sentencing. The conviction carries a 2-14-year prison sentence and a maximum fine of $15,000 each.

The jury of seven men and five women deliberated less than three hours before finding all three guilty of bribing and conspiracy to bribe Harry A. Doggett of Greensburg, former right-of-way purchasing director for the Indiana Highway Department.

The three were charged with giving Doggett a $15,000 check for advance information about proposed routes for highways in Wayne and Lake counties. The prosecution contended they bought land along the proposed routes then sold it to the state, making $81,000 profit.

John A. Royse, defense attorney for Blaier and Hutcheson, announced he would ask for a new trial. John A. O'Hara, attorney for Chapman, said he would request a suspended sentence for his client. He said Chapman was suffering from cancer, heart trouble and diabetes and would undergo surgery in Seattle, Wash., his hometown, next week.

The union officials were indicted Feb. 18, 1958, by a Marion County (Indianapolis) grand jury after a Lake County grand jury failed to return indictments on similar charges. After the Lake County investigation, the alleged profits were repaid to the state by the defendants.

The Carpenters officials' trial was delayed nearly thre eyears by a series of legal maneuvers.

Northside

We had trouble appraising this home because the replacement cost would be about $50,000.00, and 2 lots like the ones the home is located on cannot be found on North Side. We can't take to much off the value, because it is brick, the floors are hardwood, walls are pastered, and the home has 4 bedrooms and bath on the second floor plus 4 rooms and bath on the first. Very suitable downstairs room for a doctor or other office. Only 1 block from Lincoln School—1 block from the city bus—and the street is paved and still quiet and all residential. Total price $19,500.

Northside

We had trouble appraising this home because the replacement cost would be about $50,000.00, and 2 lots like the ones the home is located on cannot be found on North Side. We can't take to much off the value, because it is brick, the floors are hardwood, walls are pastered, and the home has 4 bedrooms and bath on the second floor plus 4 rooms and bath on the first. Very suitable downstairs room for a doctor or other office. Only 1 block from Lincoln School—1 block from the city bus—and the street is paved and still quiet and all residential. Total price $19,500.

FASTEST WOMAN IN THE WORLD

Racing drivers of both sexes eat dust when this Michigan grandmother gets behind the wheel

By HAL HIGDON

Vicki Wood races to achieve a record run over fast, two-and-a-half-mile Daytona Beach International Speedway.

A WHITE BLUR that was an automobile darted by to melt from sight down a ribbon-thin highway of rubber cone markers. The automobile's driver was Vicki Wood: Detroit racer, housewife, and 41-year-old grandmother. She had just driven her car 150.375 miles per hour, the fastest speed ever attained officially by a woman driver.

Vicki Wood is used to speed. She has competed successfully six years at Daytona Beach, Fla. She won consistently in Detroit stock-car races—first against other women and later against the men. Her living room contains 36 trophies.

In addition to racing, Vicki has found time to raise three children: Edward, 24, Donna, 23, and Wayne, 17. The two older are now married and Edward has a year-old son. Seeing Vicki Wood in a crowd you would never think of her as a hardened racing veteran. Blonde, blue-eyed, and with a schoolgirl figure, she seems more like the average American housewife who climbs behind the wheel of a car only to drive to the supermarket or take the kids to school.

Vicki drove only to supermarkets and schools herself until one evening in 1953 when her husband, Clarence "Skeeter" Wood, took her to the stock-car races. Vicki took one look at the girl drivers grinding around the track smashing into each other and snorted: "If I couldn't drive any better than that, I wouldn't get into a car."

The next week when they again visited the races, Skeeter told Vicki he had a surprise for her. "The surprise," she said later, "was that I would race that night!"

Driving at high speeds around a quarter-mile asphalt track proved more difficult than it seemed from the side lines, but Vicki managed to qualify for the main women's race. Skeeter, who 25 years before had raced cars himself before being sidelined by injuries, gave Vicki some advice: "You can crowd by a car as long as you can get your nose up as far as the driver's door. Once he sees you, he won't cut across."

Vicki tried it in the race. Going down one straightaway she spied an opening between two cars. She sneaked into the gap, pushing her nose up to their doors, only to have the two cars close in on top of her. She finished out of the money.

"I forgot one thing," sighed Skeeter later. "She was racing against women drivers."

Women drivers or not, Vicki Wood was seldom outmaneuvered after that. In her first full season, she drove in 10 feature events for women, taking four firsts and three seconds. The following year she won four out of five championship races, losing the fifth only when her front tire went flat. She set a track record at the Flat Rock Speedway just outside Detroit, qualifying her car 2/100 of a second faster than any of the men. At the end of the season, the Detroit Sports Guild named her the No. 1 woman driver of the year.

After a hectic run, Vicki Wood smiles for photographers.

But Vicki didn't like driving against women. "They're unpredictable," she says. "You never know what they're going to do."

Her chance to compete against the men came in 1957 when the manager of the Flat Rock Speedway allowed the girls to qualify for the men's races one night. Only Vicki could turn in a time fast enough to make the main event. She finished 19th after her car blew a gasket. Most of the other girl drivers soon gave up trying to compete against the other sex, but Vicki, who soon began to hold her own, had no inclinations to return to women's racing.

VICKI USED to help her brothers tinker with cars and had driven more than 50 miles a day as a supervisor for a grocery chain, but she never dreamed she might become a racing driver. "Right now, Vicki's as good a driver as anybody in the country," says Andy Barto, Detroit promoter who used to manage the Flat Rock Speedway. "You can't go down to Daytona Beach year after year and do what she has without knowing plenty."

Vicki's record at Daytona has been nothing short of phenomenal. Each year since 1955 she has turned in the fastest time of all women drivers. Three years she recorded individual times faster than any men. In 1959 the only car that topped her speed blew up before the event was over.

Last Fourth of July, while watching but not competing in the Daytona Beach track races, she stopped at the pits to say hello to some of the drivers. Her way was barred by a guard. "Sorry, no women allowed," he said.

Vicki, who seldom argues with anybody, retired to her seat. When the drivers heard of this rebuff, they swarmed out of the pits to visit her in the grandstand. When the track owner learned of the incident, he grabbed the microphone and announced over the loudspeaker so everyone could hear it: "Attention, all gatetenders. At this track Vicki Wood is the same as any man!"

Vicki wasn't sure just how to interpret this, but she smiled. It was part of the fame that goes with the title of the world's fastest woman.

Vicki Wood races to achieve a record run over fast, two-and-a-half-mile Daytona Beach International Speedway.

A WHITE BLUR that was an automobile darted by to melt from sight down a ribbon-thin highway of rubber cone markers. The automobile's driver was Vicki Wood: Detroit racer, housewife, and 41-year-old grandmother. She had just driven her car 130.375 miles per hour, the fastest speed ever attained officially by a woman driver.

Vicki Wood is used to speed. She has competed successfully six years at Daytona Beach, Fla. She won consistently in Detroit stock-car races—first against other women and later against the men. Her living room contains 26 trophies.

In addition to racing, Vicki has found time to raise three children: Edward, 24, Donna, 23, and Wayne, 17. The two older are now married and Edward has a year-old son. Seeing Vicki Wood in a crowd you would never think of her as a hardened racing veteran. Blonde, blue-eyed, and with a schoolgirl figure, she seems more like the average American housewife who climbs behind the wheel of a car only to drive to the supermarket or take the kids to school.

Vicki drove only to supermarkets and schools herself until one evening in 1953 when her husband, Clarence "Sheeter" Wood, took her to the stock-car races. Vicki took one look at the girl drivers grinding around the track smashing into each other and snorted: "If I couldn't drive any better than that, I wouldn't get into a car."

The next week when they again visited the races, Sheeter told Vicki he had a surprise for her. "The surprise," she said later, "was that I would race that night!"

Driving at high speeds around a quarter-mile asphalt track proved more difficult than it seemed from the side lines, but Vicki managed to qualify for the main women's race. Sheeter, who 25 years before had raced cars himself before being sidelined by injuries, gave Vicki some advice: "You can crowd by a car as long as you can get your nose up as far as the driver's door. Once he sees you, he won't cut across."

Vicki tried it in the race. Going down one straightaway she spied an opening between two cars. She sneaked into the gap, pushing her nose up to their doors, only to have the two cars close in on top of her. She finished out of the money.

"I forgot one thing," sighed Sheeter later. "She was racing against women drivers."

Women drivers or not, Vicki Wood was seldom outmaneuvered after that. In her first full season, she drove in 10 feature events for women, taking four firsts and three seconds. The following year she won four out of five championship races, losing the fifth only when her front tire went flat. She set a track record at the Flat Rock Speedway just outside Detroit, qualifying her car 2/100 of a second faster than any of the men. At the end of the season, the Detroit Sports Guild named her the No. 1 woman driver of the year.

After a hectic run, Vicki Wood smiles for photographers.

But Vicki didn't like driving against women. "They're unpredictable," she says. "You never know what they're going to do."

Her chance to compete against the men came in 1957 when the manager of the Flat Rock Speedway allowed the girls to qualify for the men's races one night. Only Vicki could turn in a time fast enough to make the main event. She finished 19th after her car blew a gasket. Most of the other girl drivers soon gave up trying to compete against the other sex, but Vicki, who soon began to hold her own, had no inclinations to return to women's racing.

VICKI USED to help her brothers tinker with cars and had driven more than 50 miles a day as a supervisor for a grocery chain, but she never dreamed she might become a racing driver. "Right now, Vicki's as good a driver as anybody in the country," says Andy Barto, Detroit promoter who used to manage the Flat Rock Speedway. "You can't go down to Daytona Beach year after year and do what she has without knowing plenty."

Vicki's record at Daytona has been nothing short of phenomenal. Each year since 1955 she has turned in the fastest time of all women drivers. Three years she recorded individual times faster than any men. In 1959 the only car that topped her speed blew up before the event was over.

Last Fourth of July, while watching but not competing in the Daytona Beach track races, she stopped at the pits to say hello to some of the drivers. Her way was barred by a guard. "Sorry, no women allowed," he said.

Vicki, who seldom argues with anybody, retired to her seat. When the drivers heard of this rebuff, they swarmed out of the pits to visit her in the grandstand. When the track owner learned of the incident, he grabbed the microphone and announced over the loudspeaker so everyone could hear it: "Attention, all gatecrenders. At this track Vicki Wood is the same as any man!"

Vicki wasn't sure just how to interpret this, but she smiled. It was part of the fame that goes with the title of the world's fastest woman.

YOUTH TAKES OVER!

This distinguished critic of the American scene assesses a current phenomenon and decides he's all for it; here's why

By PHILIP WYLIE

EDITORS' NOTE: In our efforts to make FAMILY WEEKLY a stimulating and important magazine for its millions of readers, we have brought to its pages such leading literary and international figures as Winston Churchill, Charles de Gaulle, Pearl Buck, Quentin Reynolds, Taylor Caldwell, and many others. This is the third article Philip Wylie has contributed. Known for his popular fiction as well as for his controversial opinions ("Generation of Vipers," for instance), he calls issues as he sees them. We don't expect that every reader will agree with Mr. Wylie's ideas (he causes arguments among our own editors), but we present them for their vigor and provocativeness.

THE PRESIDENTIAL contest between Senator John Kennedy, 43, and Vice President Richard Nixon, 47, has drawn attention to a fact that usually goes unnoticed: youth is taking over many key jobs in this land.

To many people, this causes distress. Aren't time-tested, "experienced" older men better able to direct the affairs of a nation, or a company, or a major scientific project? they ask. Don't judgment and wisdom improve with age? Is it right, in a time of world crisis, to be considering for national leadership men who have not yet reached even the moderately "ripe" age of 50?

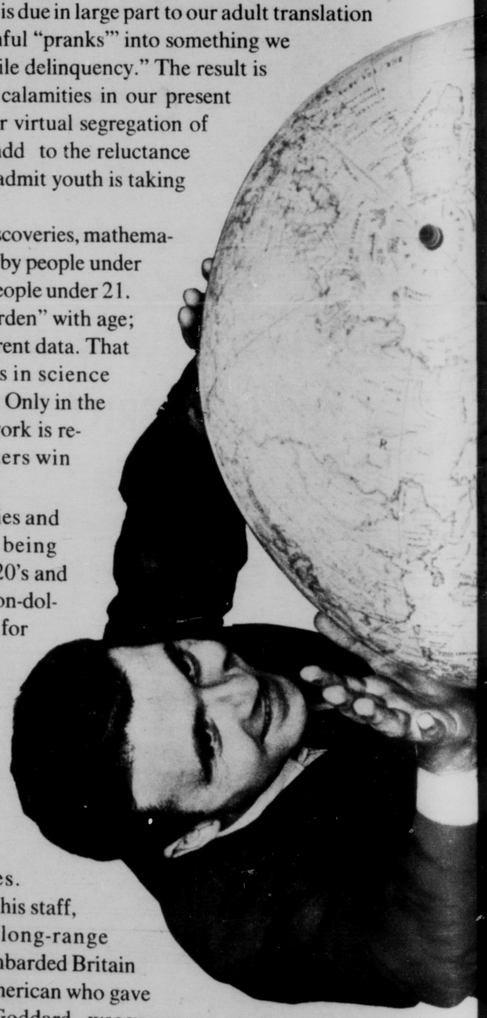

Sounds logical, doesn't it? But I cannot say I am alarmed by the visible evidence that people decades younger than myself are taking over. They've always done so. Many of the greatest pioneers, scientists, military men, national leaders, reformers, and statesmen—from ancient history until now—have been virtually kids. Those of us who have come to imagine that age-plus-experience necessarily equals wisdom are mistaken as are those of us who, on reaching middle or old age, tend to imagine we, not youths, are the ablest judges, leaders, and opinion molders.

It is the young men of every nation who usually are the doers, the pioneers, the bold innovators. The founding fathers of the United States—Washington, Jefferson, Adams, and others—were younger than Kennedy or Nixon when they led 13 colonies to independence, united them, and wrote our Constitution. Comparative youth is no handicap and often a great advantage. Senior citizens are inclined to overlook or dismiss with scorn the fact that nearly all new knowledge, original thought, and scientific discovery is made by young men—and women.

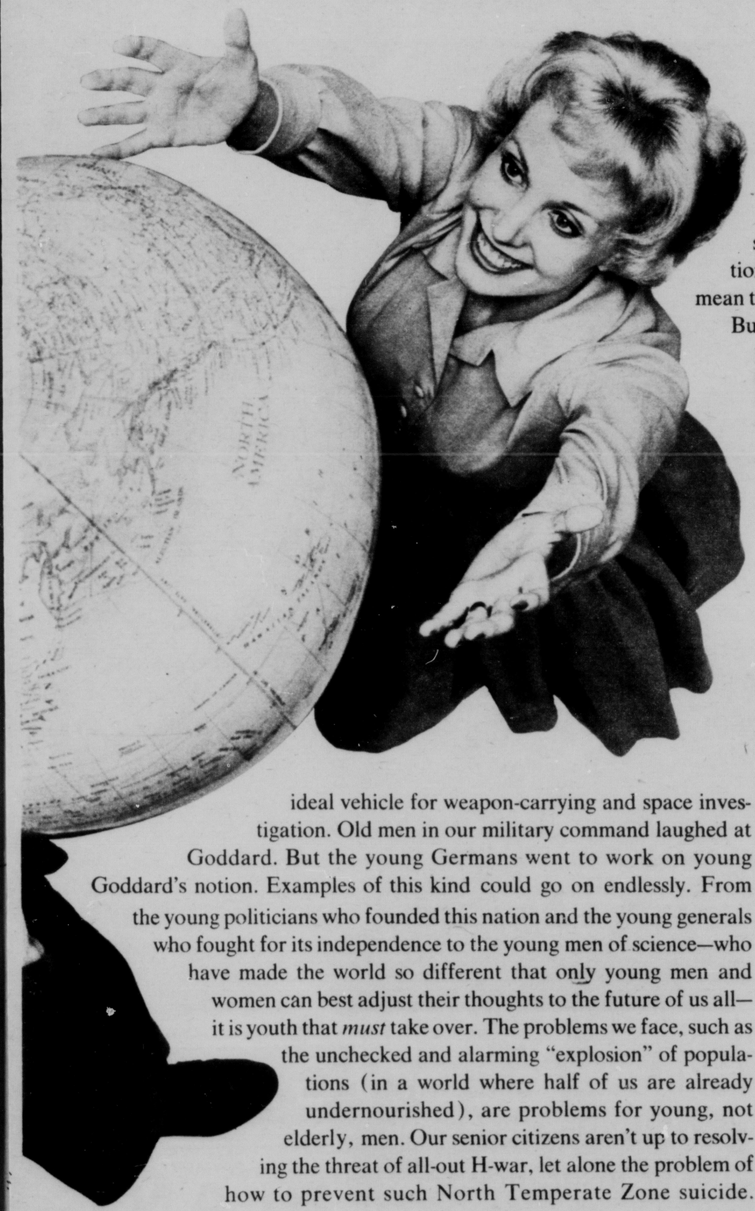

We adult Americans seem afraid of young people. Teen-agers in our country—as Margaret Mead recently observed—now live in their own community, apart from adults, lacking much communication with grownups. This withdrawal of older persons from youth is due in large part to our adult translation of what we call our youthful "pranks" into something we now fearfully call "juvenile delinquency." The result is one of the most serious calamities in our present culture. Our fear and our virtual segregation of teen-agers undoubtedly add to the reluctance of many older people to admit youth is taking over—everywhere.

Most mathematical discoveries, mathematicians assert, were made by people under 30; and, in many cases, people under 21. Most minds begin to "harden" with age; they reject new and different data. That is why the Nobel Prizes in science usually go to young men. Only in the arts, where a lifetime's work is rewarded, do many oldsters win Nobel laurels.

Today, whole industries and great corporations are being founded by men in their 20's and 30's. Scores of multimillion-dollar electronic companies, for example, are the creation of young men, and young men run them. Why? Electronics itself is so "young" that not many men over 50 have had sufficient theoretical training to direct such enterprises. Wernher Von Braun and his staff, who launched the first long-range rockets—the V2s that bombarded Britain—were mere kids. The American who gave them their idea—Robert Goddard—was young when he began trying to prove the rocket was an ideal vehicle for weapon-carrying and space investigation. Old men in our military command laughed at Goddard. But the young Germans went to work on young Goddard's notion. Examples of this kind could go on endlessly. From the young politicians who founded this nation and the young generals who fought for its independence to the young men of science—who have made the world so different that only young men and women can best adjust their thoughts to the future of us all—it is youth that must take over. The problems we face, such as the unchecked and alarming "explosion" of populations (in a world where half of us are already undernourished), are problems for young, not elderly, men. Our senior citizens aren't up to resolving the threat of all-out H-war, let alone the problem of how to prevent such North Temperate Zone suicide.

PHOTOGRAPH BY RONNIE ROJAS

That, in my view, is the reason youth is "taking over" today. On the whole, only young people are equipped to keep pace with the ever-more-complex "facts of life." In centuries past, when knowledge of a fundamental and revolutionary sort remained virtually unchanged from one generation to the next, the experience of older people did mean they had more wisdom than their sons and daughters. But all the wisdom on earth is useless if it is applied to problems the "wise old men" don't understand. Caesar was leading Roman legions in his 20's. Alexander the Great had conquered most of the known world when still in his 30's. And I might add—with no intention of irreverence but merely to emphasize my point—that the Founder of Christianity was 32 years of age when they crucified Him.

The reader will by now see that I am not distressed to find Presidential candidates in their 40's. I trust youth. As a parent, I felt a kinship for teen-agers that apparently was as welcome as it was rare; for many former teen-agers and many new ones, of their own accord, come to visit my wife and me for days, a weekend, a week. We consider that a prodigious compliment.

I'll admit it startled me when, recently, my not-yet-30-year-old son-in-law phoned to say he'd just raised a million dollars for a new corporation he'd planned with two other young men. But my amazement was momentary. I think his company will be well-managed and very profitable. Evidently, the notoriously hardheaded (older) money men of Manhattan agree.

Why shouldn't we expect youth to take over? Isn't that exactly what we hope they will do and why we teach them at home and educate them in schools and colleges? What hope exists that transcends hope for kids—yours, mine, everybody's on earth? What better hope is needed?

For me, none.

All or Nothing at All

A husband's a gent that, if ever the house is Aflame, isn't anything like what a mouse is.
He looks to your safety; he lugs out your chattels;
He rescues the kitten. How bravely he battles
The blaze. But eat dinner by candlelight guttering?
Don't let the kids hear what Daddy is muttering!

A husband's that steely nerved valorous feller
Who'll crawl out at midnight to rout from the cellar
The burglar you're certain is down there a-lurking.
But get up to see if the thermostat's working?
Oh, who ever heard such an idiot notion!
For though he's a pillar of strength and devotion,
A husband, dear lady, while good in the clinches,
Refuses to do any dying by inches!

The young family had just moved into the neighborhood and was anxious to make a good impression. But the neighbors seemed cold, and they made no overtures of welcome. The mother of the brood was overjoyed when finally her youngest son ran in and announced happily: "Mommy, the lady down the street asked my name today!"

"Oh, how nice," exclaimed the mother enthusiastically, "and then what did she do?"

"Then she gave it to the policeman," the boy said.

New-old way to soothe young babies

Health secrets of Heinz Instant Cereals

When your helpless baby becomes your "little helper," you need an extra supply of patience, humor and tact! The "me-do-it" stage starts around 15 months—from then on you'll have an eager assistant underfoot, more willing than able. Busy-ness is his business! He wants to get out his clothes, take off his shoes, sweep, dust—anything you can do, he can do better.

• How to encourage baby's declaration of independence and still get your chores done? Try compromise. Let baby push the carriage to the store—he may ride home more willingly. Invite him to do "no-hurry" jobs—fetch his clothes, help put away groceries. And make use of miniatures: a toy broom and carpet sweeper will keep your small daughter (or son) busy and happy.

• What's coming off here? Heinz easy-open screw cap is what—and it's about the most welcome convenience since baby food! One easy turn opens jars—and reseals them airtight, to keep unused portions fresh, safe. Only Heinz has screw-on caps on all Strained and Junior Foods—including Meats and High Meat Dinners.

• To soothe and quiet your new baby, consider swaddling—an old-time trick that's being revived. Most (but not all) infants, from birth to about two months, like the security of close wrapping—especially at mealtimes and naptimes. In a snug cocoon, they do less crying and "startling" (that's the new-baby "jump" brought on by loud noises or fear of falling).

To swaddle baby, lay him on a square blanket, fold one corner over him and tuck it under him. Fold the bottom corner up over his legs, loosely. Fold the other side across his chest, almost shoulder high, and tuck it under. He's even cosier with his arms covered.

• Roses bloom in wintertime on baby's cheeks when he has good red iron-rich blood. Heinz Instant Cereals help build healthy blood fast, because they're fortified with special iron that baby's body puts to good use easily. All five new Heinz Instant Cereals mix smooth in five seconds—stay smooth all during feeding. Tasty Oatmeal, Barley, Rice, Mixed Cereal, High-Protein.

• The delicious surprise inside this fine jar is Heinz Junior Macaroni, Tomatoes, Beef & Bacon. It's a hearty casserole of succulent bite-size macaroni with tomato and bacon (two of babies' most favorite flavors), plus a bonus of nourishing beef. Next time you notice baby's appetite lag, serve this tempting dish.

The shorter cooking time for rare steaks; the longer cooking time for medium-done steaks.) To impart a tantalizing flavor, spread steak with softened Roquefort cheese after seasoning.

Does "Revelation" Really FORETELL OUR FUTURE?

Since the beginning of time, men have searched incessantly for the secrets of God's vast unknown.

Through instinct and logic . . . through signs and omens and even crystal balls . . . they have sought to unveil the mysteries of the infinite, hoping for a positive "revelation" concerning their own ultimate destiny.

Even deeply religious people are often troubled by this instinctive urge to know "the unknowable," and in their quest they sometimes draw unwarranted conclusions even from sacred writings. This is notably true of the Book of Revelation, or the Apocalypse of St. John the Divine.

The purpose of Revelation is not, as some seem to think, to reveal a detailed panorama of the future. It is not a magic key to unlock a door that God has seen fit to leave closed. It is, indeed, a book of prophecy . . . and God's Own promise . . . but it relates to the past and the present as well as the future. Like the other Scriptures, it is a book which must be understood in its fullness, and with a knowledge of its precise purpose and the circumstances under which it was written.

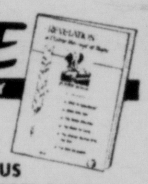

The precise purpose of Revelation is to manifest the triumph of Christ. With reference to the past, it points to Our Lord's triumph over sin and death by His life, crucifixion and resurrection. As to the present, Revelation makes clear that this triumph is complete only to the extent that men accept Christ's salvation and live by it. For the future, Revelation, and other Scriptures too, leave no doubt that there will be a final triumph, well described in the words of St. Paul: "Then comes the end, when he delivers the Kingdom to God the Father after destroying every rule and every authority and power."

St. John addressed his Apocalypse to the Seven Churches of Asia Minor, which were, of course, the Catholic Church. Making frequent use of symbolisms, he warned the Church against enemies whom he likened to a beast, a dragon and an anti-Christ. The meaning of these symbols is often misunderstood.

Revelation is, indeed, a powerful message to all who look wonderingly and hopefully into the great unknown. But to gain the true spiritual comfort which this God-given book offers, its precise meaning should be clearly understood. If you would like to read a highly interesting and helpful pamphlet on the subject, write today and we will send it free and without obligation. It will be mailed in a plain wrapper and nobody will call on you. Ask for Pamphlet No. FM-51.

Halloween

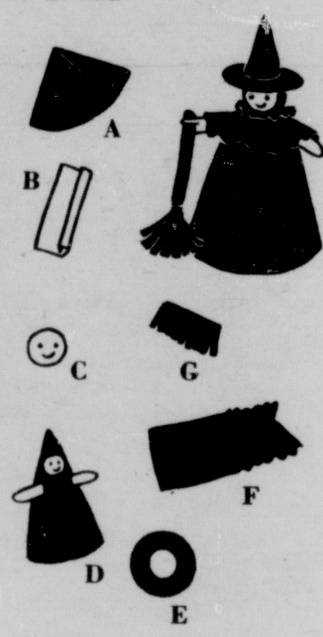

By Nancy Clinton

Halloween Favors By Denise Giraud

Get some white paper, black paper, scissors, string, and paste, and you are all set to make your wicked witch and grisly ghost for Halloween. First, to make the witch, form a cone from the black paper "A." Make the arms and face from white paper "B" and "C." Paste the face on the cone and make two slits for the arms to pass through "D." Cut "E" for the hat and "F" for the collar. Gather "F" and tie around the neck.

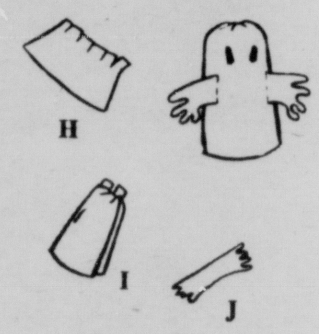

Now a witch must have a broom to ride on, so cut "B" and "G" out of black paper, wrap "G" around one end of "B," and tie.

Now, how about a mask for you? Cut "K" from heavy black construction paper. Cut "L" for the nose. Slit along the wide edge and fold. Paste the nose onto "K" and tie a piece of string on either side of the mask to tie in back of the head. If you wish, you may paste slit black crepe paper on the string to look like hair "M."

To make the grisly ghost, cut "H" from white paper and cut slits along the top. Form a cone and fold and paste the flaps over each other on top "I." Cut "J" and pass through slits on opposite sides of the cone for arms. Paint eyes, and he's all ready to go a-haunting.

Let's Draw a Kinkajou By Ann Davidow

The body of a tiny bear,
With monkey tail—but I'm aware

That nobody can think it true
Who hasn't seen a kinkajou!

AS RATIONAL and intelligent humans, most of us believe that witches, if they ever existed at all, belonged to the superstitious Middle Ages rather than to modern times. But a recent study of newspaper files shows that a number of well-educated persons still believe wholeheartedly in witches and the power of their curses, charms, and magical craft.

For instance, last year a 62-year-old Alabama school principal resigned after admitting to the county school superintendent that she believed in voodoo and had openly discussed it with her pupils.

Earlier this year, a New York City waitress, questioned by reporters about disturbances in the coffeehouse where she worked, replied that she could say nothing about herself at the moment because she was studying to be a witch.

Not long ago in England, the Rev. Montague Summers, an authority on the history of witchcraft, stated, "I know there are witch cults today in hundreds of cities in the British Isles."

It is common knowledge, of course, that in areas where ignorance and superstition are as strong today as they were centuries ago, the witch is still a creature of terror. As the American People's Encyclopedia points out: "Any old woman who lives alone, collects herbs, and is mildly eccentric is likely to be known as a witch." News reports from the Congo recently told how 241 suspected witches and sorcerers had been put to death by fellow tribesmen after mysterious trials.

But to find witchcraft still flourishing in the "civilized world" comes as something of a shock. It's hard to believe, though all of us have probably bumped into such superstition at one time or another in our lives.

In areas of Pennsylvania, for example, it is common to see barns decorated with hex signs for warding off evil spells and spirits. In Denmark, people still build immense antiwitch bonfires on St. Hans Eve, which comes at the height of summer. According to legend, these fires are built in order to trap and burn any witches flying over the countryside.

ONE OF THE most outspoken believers that witches do exist is Gerald Gardner, anthropologist and director of the Museum of Magic and Witchcraft on the Isle of Man, England. Gardner declares that he has met many witches in his life and that he himself is a member of one of the oldest societies of witches surviving in England.

The real problem in identifying a witch, according to Gardner, is that she isn't necessarily a wrinkled old crone with a tall, pointed hat, brewing malevolent and malodorous spells in an iron cauldron.

No, sir. Your 20th-century witch is more likely to be a suburbanite with a split-level home and creeping crab grass, he maintains.

She and her husband (male witches are called warlocks) might be your next-door neighbor. She leads a quiet, orderly life and is discreet about her magical powers. The last thing she wants is to start another Salem witch panic!

With such power at her fingertips, you'd think the modern witch would be sitting pretty, but she's now faced with a real threat. Witchcraft has always been a family tradition, says Gardner, passed on from parents to children like a favorite recipe. In centuries past, youngsters could be quietly taught the family secrets without interference from the outside world.

But today children are expected to join groups, to be part of the gang. Witches who train their children now live in fear that Junior may blab an incantation in class and permanently ruin the family reputation or, even worse, put a spell on the scoutmaster or math teacher.

Michael Callaway, a writer and artist who has done considerable research on witchcraft, estimates that in the U.S. there are more than 10,000 witches' cults, each with three to 13 members. "These cults are very secretive. The members consider it their religion, and it often takes years before they'll let in a new member."

Before you laugh at people like Callaway or Gardner, consider that people were once equally skeptical about sea monsters. Today we accept them as being giant whales or squid. Maybe the answer to witches is equally simple.

In any event, keep your wits about you if you attend a Halloween party. Some of the spirits surrounding you will be good and some evil. We hope you can spot which is witch!

The Remarkable
ANNIE FARGÉ

By PEER J. OPPENHEIMER

France's latest export is a Parisian pretty who's funny, too

Pert, petite Annie Fargé will adapt her French dramatic training to a starring role in a U.S. TV comedy series.

From the window of their Paris house, Annie and her husband Dirk Sanders watch world go by.

SHE'S BARELY five feet tall, weighs a smidgen over 90 pounds, has reddish-brown hair, a pixie face, a contagious giggle, and a ready smile. With the sparkle and charm of a petite French doll, she will probably succeed Lucille Ball as queen of television's comediennes.

Her name is Annie Fargé, and she's the 24-year-old Parisienne cast as a French girl married to an American architect in the new TV series, "Angel."

Annie started out with all the odds against her ever becoming a comedienne. She had a terrifying childhood, which saw her torn from her parents at four and forced to live under an assumed name in the shadow of death for five years. Yet Annie always came up smiling. She still does.

Annie's real name is Goldfarb. When the Nazis invaded her homeland in 1940, like other children of the Jewish faith she was earmarked for death.

Annie's parents had been divorced when she was a baby, and her father had fled to Switzerland before the Wehrmacht steam-rolled into France. Unable to get herself and her children out of the country in time, her mother hurried four-year-old Annie and her six-year-old brother Louis to a friend's farm in Belgium, then went into hiding herself.

Annie was nine when the war ended and she and her brother rejoined their mother in Paris. Mrs. Goldfarb then owned a children's clothing store. One afternoon, when Annie was 11, she talked her mother into letting her mind the store while Mrs. Goldfarb went on an errand. When her mother returned, Annie proudly announced the coup of the month: she had sold three dresses for twice the price marked on the sales tag! Sighed Annie as she recalled the incident: "I deed not know why my mother was so opset. I thought zat was zee way business was done . . ."

Annie, who prided herself on being tops in what she refers to as "zee old French costom of bargaineeng . . ." continued to bargain for anything and everything—even in the U.S.

Once she went to a Fifth Avenue store to buy a dress marked down from $100 to $75. The word "Sale" convinced Annie that this was the beginning of a bargaining session, and she offered to pay $50, "all cash." The best she could do was settle for $62! "My husband was terreeblee opset," Annie admits. "I promeesed: nevair zee bargaineeng again."

Annie first confronted her mother with her desire to become an actress when she was 14. Mrs. Goldfarb wouldn't even discuss her daughter's notions.

"Not even if I were accepted by the Conservatoire Nationale?" Annie came back, wide-eyed. The Conservatoire is the most famous dramatic school in France, associated with the Comedie Francaise, and most difficult to get into.

"If you were accepted by the Conservatoire—but that is impossible," her mother replied self-assuredly. Except for appearing in a few school plays, Annie had no training.

"In that case, I will be an actress," Annie announced happily—for she had just auditioned for admission and had been one of 10 students accepted out of 3,000 applicants.

Annie's vivaciousness, personality, and talent earned her the "Critique de Paris" award when she graduated at 16 and led to many starring parts in classics as well as comedies. It also led to the acquaintance of another member of the Comedie Francaise, her husband-to-be, Dirk Sanders.

ALTHOUGH ANNIE considered Dirk a potential husband from the time she first laid eyes on him, he looked on her as a wide-eyed little girl. When he still wasn't sure the time was right for marriage six years later, Annie followed him to New York where he was with the Roland Petit Ballet.

Within 24 hours of her arrival, they were married and have since been blessed with daughter Leslie.

Compared with Annie's trials and tribulations in her native France, getting her career started in the U.S. was easy.

An agent forwarded her photograph to producer Jess Oppenheimer in Hollywood. He was so impressed that he had her make a tape recording in New York, then signed her to a long-term contract without bothering to give her a screen test.

Today, Annie's only regret is that her husband is in South America starring in his first dramatic role, while she is entrenched in a Hollywood house with a baby, a French nurse who can't speak English, and a car she can't drive.

"Soon everytheeng weel be okay-dokay," she says hopefully. With Annie's disposition, how could it be otherwise?

A Salem breathes "Springtime" with every puff you take. Gentle as a merry breeze on a bright spring day... that's how softly a Salem refreshes your taste. The sunny richness of fine tobaccos is yours, too... And special High Porosity paper "air-softens" every puff... All reasons why Salem is America's fastest-growing cigarette, by far! Smoke refreshed... smoke Salem!
